Stepfather Held On Charge Of Killing Son

An 18-year old Upland boy is dead as the result of a blast from a 20-gauge shotgun which ended a family argument over two dogs. The youth's stepfather, Larry Lenz, 36, has been charged with murder.

Dead is Zoltan Henry Kiss of 1433 Estrellita Court who was killed shortly after 8 p.m. at the family home Sunday evening.

Lenz, the victim's stepfather, surrendered to police when they arrived at the home. He is being held without bail at the West End County jail.

Young Kiss was pronounced dead at the scene by a doctor summoned by neighbors. He had received the force of the shotgun blast on the right side of his neck and jaw.

Zoltan Kiss

The argument between the boy and his stepfather apparently resulted when Kiss and a companion, Gerald Detlefsen, 18, of 457 N. Third avenue brought two dogs to Kiss' home.

The victim's mother, Ruth, objected to the presence of the animals and demanded that they "had to go tonight," Detlefsen told investigators.

Detlefsen was not near the scene of the argument and shooting, but he told officers, "I guess Zoltan tried to choke one of Mrs. Lenz' poodles because I heard her tell him to stop choking the dog."

LEFT HOUSE

The two boys then left and drove around for a few minutes before returning.

Kiss then went back inside the house, and it was then that the victim's companion heard the shot.

"I thought Zoltan had gone back and shot the dog," Detlefsen said.

The young victim was described as quiet and easy going, but neighbors said that they sometimes heard arguments between Zoltan and Mrs. Lenz.

Lenz were seriously hurt in an auto accident about six months ago and is still recovering. He walked to the police car on crutches.

The Lenz family recently sold their home and planned to move into a new house near San Antonio Heights. They had visited the new home earlier in the day.

The dead youth has two brothers, Gary 17, stationed at Ft. Ord, and 11-year old Douglas who was in the bedroom when the shot was fired.

City And County Get Tax Money

Upland's share of the state cigarette tax for the month of July was $7,850.64, and San Bernardino county's share was $40,187.46, out of a state distribution of $6,081,362 to the various cities and counties in the state.

Under a new formula which became effective in July, 50 percent of the cities share was apportioned by local sales tax ratio and 50 percent by population ratio. The distribution of the counties' share remained the same as before on a local sales tax ratio.

Seventy-Fourth Year No. 30 — Upland, California, Wednesday, October 2, 1968 — 48 Pages Ten Cents

UNITED FUND VOLUNTEERS -- Gathered at the recent United Fund Kickoff luncheon were Lew Genge, Mrs. Martha Chapman, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Deagan. They are volunteer workers in the year's campaign.

United Fund Campaign Kicked Off

The 1968 West End United Fund was kicked off at a luncheon held last week honoring the volunteer workers in the campaign.

George Vinnedge took over the gavel from Frank Collella, last year's chairman, and announced the theme of this year's drive as "Sing Out, and Give the United Way."

The colorful and tuneful Lions band played background music for the program which included a narrated film set to music called "Help Them to Help Themselves," and told of the area's needs. Several reports were also heard at the meeting.

A report on the "pilot" campaign, a pre-kickoff fund drive, that sets the pace for the year, revealed a total of $15,219 was collected from employees of the firms participating.

Included in the campaign under the direction of Orville Garrison was Sunkist, whose collection from 480 employees was $6,700. The chairmen were Pete Kidwell and Bob Miller; Otis Elevator collected $2,241 from 231 employees under the direction of Frank Lasinski; Etiwanda Steel's 375 employees gave $4,-237, and the Daily Report Newspaper under the chairmanship of Dave Caffoe gave $2,041 from 145 employees.

This year's goal of United Fund is $64,000, a ten per cent increase over last year and chairman Vinnedge said, "It is a big chore we know, but we'll not only meet it. we'll exceed it."

Actor Ed Nelson, who plays Dr. Rossi in Peyton Place was to have been guest speaker, but was unable to attend due to a switch in his TV scheduling.

Vinnedge, who became the main speaker, posed the question of "What would Dr. Rossi find in the west end if he were to take a tour today? Despair, poverty and need?"

"You'd better believe it! said Vinnedge. "To combat it, money is needed to provide trained workers to help alleviate the needs."

He pointed out the workers are volunteers who live and work in the communities and provide the manpower to keep the member agencies going. However, he said both money and manpower are needed.

The West End United Fund agencies serve Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Guasti Montclair, Ontario, Mt. Baldy and Upland.

BREAKFAST IN THE PARK -- Up goes the announcement on one of the mall's kiosks telling of the Kiwanis annual pancake jamboree. The sixth annual event will be held Sat. and Sunday at Memorial Park. A hearty breakfast including the favorite pancake (all you can eat) will be served from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Continuous entertainment will be provided during the breakfast.

Our Safety Award Tarnished

Three Fatalities So Far In 1968

Last year Upland won a safety award for no fatalities in traffic accidents. This year we've had three and one near fatality which happened last Wednesday morning and if the condition of the patient continues as "poor," we may have a fourth fatality of the year, and the second to occur in September.

These fatalities have happened so far at Grove and Foothill bouevard, where a man was killed by an auto; Benson and Foothill where a man was killed by an auto; Mountain and 15th st. where a child was killed by a motorcycle; and the last, Wednesday, at Euclid and 19th St. where a woman was hit by an auto. She may not live. Police Sergeant Howard Seay of the Upland Police Department was interviewed this week about the situation. He said no one knows why we've had so many fatalities, but there does seem to be more traffic congestion in the city and this leads to impatient drivers and pedestrians.

So far this year 3,514 traffic citations have been issued by the Upland Police Dept. These are violations that could cause serious accidents.

But, it isn't always the motorist who gets a citation. A few have been given to pedestrians and bike riders sometimes get them.

What can be done to help the situation? The people can be aware, said the Sgt., of the congested driving conditions in the city, especially along Euclid avenue which connects with the freeway and Foothill boulevard which is a major arterial highway, and they can take time to be more courteous to the other driver.

The pedestrian can be aware that cars keeping within the speed limit are sometimes going too fast to stop on short notice. Or, to see the pedestrian hidden behind a car. The pedestrian has the right to use the crosswalk, but the responsibility to use it wisely. He should not jaywalk, and should be aware that an unmarked crosswalk is only designated as one that follows a sidewalk. Otherwise, it is not a crosswalk and the person is jaywalking.

Finally, the bike rider can keep his bike in good repair, observe the courtesy of the road, and most of all not playfully wirligig around cars who are passing him. Some bike riders treat the street as a playground.

As the town grows, we'll have more traffic congestion and it is the responsibility of both the pedestrian and motorist to be courteous and obey the traffic laws.

The police department has a continuous traffic safety program in the schools which has proven effective. The schools cooperate by insisting no one ride his bike to school until he has reached the fourth grade and has been through a safety training session. High School Driver Education programs teach traffic safety as well as driving and good driving habits.

The traffic safety program is also available to any club or organization in the area at any time, said Sgt. Seay. "We'll go anywhere, any time to present a program on traffic safety," he added.

Observe Us And Help Save A Life- Yours!

Editorial

Please be safety minded while you are in our fair city whether you are a motorist, pedestrian or bike rider.

Last year we won an award for safety, meaning not a life was lost in traffic accidents. This year we've had three fatalities and one near fatality.

By Jenny Kirkpatrick

We need to become safety minded again. Please do your part. Drive carefully, walk carefully, and use your bike carefully.

Help yourself and the other fellow to live. Let's all be lifesavers. We owe it to ourselves.

Planners Prove Brevity Is Possible In Meetings

UPLAND -- It was probably the shortest Planning Commission meeting since the city was incorporated three-quarters of a century ago.

The meeting Thursday night beat the 14-1/2 minute record set last April when there were three items on the agenda.

It was nine minutes from opening to the adjournment gavel. Seven people in the audience, who were late, arrived just as the last gavel banged.

THREE ITEMS

There also were three items on the agenda, including a public hearing.

The hearing was on a conditional use permit for a Chinese drive-in restaurant to be located in a C-4 zone on half an acre on the north side of Seventh street east of Mountain avenue.

The drive-in is planned by the House of Wong (Chop Chop) in care of International Restaurant Services of the City of Orange.

The firm must improve the north half of Seventh street, build a three-foot wall on the east side of the property and provide a five-foot-wide planter along the north side, among other things.

Development must start within a year.

So mark ye calendars for Sat., Oct. 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. and bundle up the family in the old fliver and enjoy a turn-of-the-century evening in the Upland Towne Centre.

GOP Speaker Here

Mrs. James K. McCall, president of the Los Angeles County Federation of Republican Women, was guest speaker at the Sept. 18 luncheon meeting of the Chaffey Community Republican Women's Federation.

After an introduction by Program Chairman Mrs. Loyon Phillips, Mrs. McCall stated that this country needs a return to Republican rule and a return to law and order. She stressed the need for Republicans to understand basic Republican principles.

Mrs. McCall quoted Senator Edwin Brooke of Massachusetts as saying, "If the Democrats call themselves the party of the people, the Republicans are the party of the individual."

She called on all Republicans to unite and support the party ticket. Mrs. McCall quoted Ray Bliss, chairman of the Republican party, as saying in Miami, "Win at the local level and the top of the ticket will take care of itself."

A resolution in three parts was prepared and presented to the Republican women by Mrs. Russell Fudge, legislative chairman. After a short discussion, the resolution was unanimously passed. Mrs. Fudge has sent the resolution to the Board of Regents.

The club went on record opposing the lecture given by Dr. Benjamin Spock at a Chaffey College assembly. They cited Dr. Spock's indictment on charges of encouraging young men to resist the draft as the reason for their opposition.

The club is also opposed to the proposed lecture series of Eldridge Cleaver at the University of California, Berkeley. They listed Cleaver's alleged racism and past criminal record as grounds for their disapproval.

The Republican Women also targeted the boycott of California table grapes as objectionable. They feel that the grape growers are being subjected to too much pressure.

Interested Republican women were invited to attend the Chaffey Community Republican Women's coffees and luncheons, which are held at the Upland Inn on the third Wednesday of each month.

Flaires Plan

The September meeting of the Flaires was held in the home of Mrs. Don Johnson. It was discussed and agreed upon that the club would buy a new flag for the substation as the weather has destroyed the previous one.

The club is also looking into the members joining the Women's Auxiliary of the California State Fireman's Association. It has benefits that would give the children of the firemen chances at scholarships for furthering their education. The members mentioned what an enjoyable evening was spent at the previous meeting held in the home of Mrs. Paul Harmon. A tour of Hottel's Furniture store plus tips on home decorating was on the agenda for that August meeting.

After the business meeting was held at Mrs. Johnson's games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Richard Coale, Mrs. George Melendrez and Mrs. Don Morton. Refreshments were served.

GOP Women Set Opener

A luncheon and card party at the Ontario Women's Club will kick-off the fall season for the Republican Women on Saturday, October 12, at 12 noon.

Chairman Mrs. Ernest Henderson announced that there will be a door prize and table prizes. Assisting Mrs. Henderson on the arrangements will be the Mmes. Robert Movison, food; Bruce Claflin, tickets; Harry Drake, decorations; and Paul Cushing, cards.

Tickets are also available at the Republican Headquarters, 628 N. Euclid, Ontario; and the Christensen for Assembly headquarter, 851 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland.

The club extends an invitation to all Republican women, whether they play cards or not.

Scouts Demonstrate Laws

"A Girl Scout is Kind to Animals" was the theme submitted in the elaborate display by the five Girl Scout Councils at the Los Angeles County Fair this year. The Spanish Trails Council, along with the Greater Long Beach, San Fernando Valley, Sierra Madres and Angeles Councils, representing 101,981 Girl Scouts throughout Los Angeles County and a portion of San Bernardino County, collaborated to present this exhibit.

The theme represents one of the Girl Scout Laws and showed five mannikins portraying all age levels in Scouting -- Brownie, Junior, Cadette, Seniors and Adults, engaged in action with small paper mache animals.

Pilots Certificate Earned By Teenager

At 14 most boys are riding bikes and dreaming of cars. Not so for David Cable who has been flying airplanes since that age -- over three years ago.

Now at the age of 17, David, a senior at Ganesha High School in Pomona, has become the third generation of the flying Cable family to receive his Private Pilot's Certificate.

Dewey and Paul Cable, Dave's grandfather and father, have been flying for a total of nearly fifty years. At present they are owner and operator of Cable Airport, one of the largest privately owned, non-subsidized airports in the United States.

"It's a fantastic feeling going 160 miles an hour at over 1,000 feet off the ground," says Dave, who first soloed at 16. Dave was encouraged to fly by his uncle, Roger Cable, who is President of Cable Commuter Airlines.

Dave is just one of the over 10,000 private citizens interested in flying who have received their instruction for their Private Pilot Certificate at the Cable Air School.

Dave plans to work with his aviation-minded family after graduation from Mt. San Antonio College.

FLEDGLING FLYER -- With anticipation to the future David Cable, 17 (center) looks over log books belonging to his grandfather Dewey Cable; (L) and his father Paul Cable (R). David, who just earned his Private Pilot's Certificate, is the third generation of the Cable family to join the ranks of aviation. Grandfather Dewey Cable founded Cable Airport in Upland.

Cost Is High For Planting Vineyard

Have any idea of what it would cost today to establish an 80-acre vineyard of Thompson seedless grapes for table use?

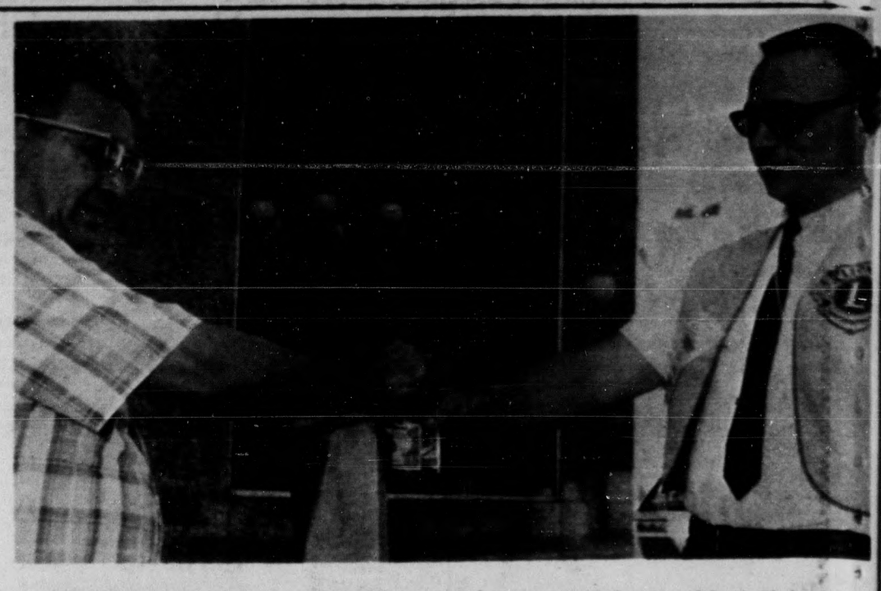

Approximately $82,640 through the first three years--not counting the cost of the land. Ten years ago the cost would have been about $70,640.

"This is just another example of the cost-price squeeze in agriculture," says the Council of California Growers which obtained the figures from cost studies by the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

"For, while the costs of production have continued to soar, the prices received by growers have remained almost static."

According to the Federal-State Market News Service, the prices received by growers of Thompson seedless table grapes during the September 8-14, 1968 period ranged from $2.50 to $3.50 per box. The average of prices received during the same period for the years 1959 through 1968 varied from $2.60 to $3.40 per box.

During the first two years of developing a vineyard, the grower of table grapes can expect to sell no fruit at all. Some fruit can be harvested during the third and fourth years, but most vineyards do not come into full production until the fifth and sixth years.

Singers Schedule Program

Otis Skillings' Singers featuring Otis and Mervyl Skillings will appear on Sunday, Sept. 29, at the First Church of the Nazarene, 120 W. 9th St., Upland, beginning at 7 pm.

This colorful group will present an extraordinary musical program of sacred numbers. Combining a balance of favorite hymns with the refreshing new sounds of gospel songs and spirituals, the "Singers" can be expected to be even more than tastefully entertaining, they are spiritually challenging. It is not, however, just a vocal group. Many of them play an instrument as well, and versatility is one of the keys to their success.

The complete ensemble was created by Otis Skillings. Mr. Skillings is nationally recognized as an outstanding director-arranger. His keyboard artistry is unsurpassed, and he directs the program from the piano. Response to his group has always been overwhelming, whether at the World's Fair in New York City, the U.S. Army Base in Frankfurt, Germany, church audiences in Scotland, France, Italy, a mayor's breakfast, a civic rally, or his popular Christmas in Color spectaculars which have attracted thousands of people.

Appearing with the "Singers" is his wife, Mervyl. Her rich alto voice and warm personality make her a favorite with audiences. The Skillings' recordings are well loved. The members of the Otis Skillings Singers are selected with great care. They represent many vocations and churches, and are chosen on the basis of musical ability, personality, versatility, spiritual character. Every church musical includes an inspirational time of testimony and personal experience, for each one has dedicated his talent to serving of the Lord through music. The superb sounds of the Otis Skillings Singers promise to capture the interest of young people as well as adults.

All in the community are invited to attend this special musical evening, according to the pastor, the Rev. Bill E. Burch.

Alta Loma Student Named Semifinalist

Principal Burt Wiley has announced that a student at Alta Loma High School has been named a Semifinalist in the 1968-69 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The student, Gary Favara, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic D. Favara of 7539 Via Serena, Cucamonga.

The 15,000 Semifinalists appointed today are among the nations' most intellectually able high school seniors and will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1969.

The Semifinalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, given last February in 17,500 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the country.

Every Seminalist who becomes a Finalist will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships, allocated by the state. Many will also be considered for the four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 400 corporations, foundations, college, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals.

Winners of four-year Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual need. Winners of the National Merit $1000 Scholarships will receive one-time stipends of $1,000 upon enrollment in college.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, and school citizenship of the Finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

Gary graduated from Alta Loma High in the summer, 1968, with a 3.86 G.P.A. He also lettered in varsity water polo, junior varsity golf and swimming, and won the Optimist Speaking Contest in 1966. Gary is now attending Chaffey Junior College.

Upland Friendly, Says Foreign Exchange Student

In a quiet setting of trees with a view of Mt. Baldy in the background, a lovely Swedish girl relates her experiences and tells of her life in the United States. She is 17 year old Kerstin Lewin, an American Field Service foreign exchange student from Sweden who is now living with the Richard DuVall family on Wilson avenue.

It is a happy arrangement and lots of good natured teasing is exchanged between Kerstin and her "family." They think she is "delightful," and those who have met her, echo this feeling.

She is a beautiful girl with lots of charm, and is full of vigor and enthusiasm about almost everything. She loves life and it shows.

The young exchange student has lived in Germany and she isn't through traveling yet. Her major goal is to become an interpreter; she is well on her way to achieving it since she can speak Swedish, English, German and some French.

Kerstin left Rotterdam by boat with 110 other foreign exchange students from 16 different countries. She describes the trip as fun and exciting with so many different interests to challenge one.

After the boat landed in New York, the exchange students flew to their various destinations. Los Angeles was Kerstin's where the DuValls met her, and promptly fell in love with her. The feeling was mutual.

"They are similar to my family at home," she says, and I've only been homesick "a little."

The families for the exchange students are carefully chosen, as are the students. It requires a lot of paper work and interviews, etc. The idea is to match the families and students very closely.

CONTRASTING SCHOOL SYSTEMS

Contrasting the school system of both Sweden and the United States, the young student said, "You have better contact with the teachers, and they are friendlier. There are no outside activities such as football games, etc. at home. When you are finished for the day, you go home and study."

However, there is as much pressure on the Swedish student as there is in the United States to get good grades, and maybe more so over there as not all of those attending the lower grades, which are compulsory, go on to the Gymnasium (High school) or the universities.

The student starts out at the age of seven and in the fourth grade learns English, in the ninth grade compulsory school ends, and either one goes to a technical school or to the gymnasium. Some 30 per cent of the students do not make it to the higher school.

In the lower grades there are 15 required subjects and the only electives are typewriting or either French or German.

The other subjects a student must master include Swedish, chemistry, physics, biology, music, sewing, child development, English, German or French, history, math, government, and P.E.

If the student does not make it to the higher school he enters a trade-technical school.

Although she will graduate in June from Upland High, when she returns to Sweden she will still have two more years at the gymnasium. She will then take an exam to enter the university. After that goal has been reached and "If I'm lucky and graduate, I will go to Switzerland to study at the interpreters school in Geneva." She than plans to work at the UN.

DATING PATTERNS DIFFERENT

When asked about the dating pattern in Sweden, Kerstin smiled, and said, "The boys do not always pay for the dates, especially if they are students. The girl pays her way and sometimes the boy's way, it all depends. But girls don't expect their dates to pay." Where do they go for entertainment? They go to dischoteques that are located in the towns, and they WALK or ride a BIKE. Kerstin said she can't get over the American girl's attitude that if a boy doesn't have a car she won't date him.

On marriage she said, she would like to finish her education and get married when she was around 22. Early marriages are not popular in Sweden, and she expressed surprise at the young marriages in America.

One of the reasons that early marriage is not popular in her country is that if the girl is younger than 21 and the boy younger than 18, they would have to get the King's permission to marry as well as their parents. No one wants to do that, she said.

After girls marry, many of them continue in their careers and some even after they have families as there are good day care centers in Sweden.

Kerstin comes from Falun which is capitol of the province and is 275 miles north of Stockholm. The town is nestled in a green valley which is surrounded by large mountains. Her father is a civil engineer, her mother is a social worker, and her 12 year old brother goes to school.

She likes to ride horseback, travel, sew, to study languages and meet people. Besides Disneyland, she hopes to see Mexico, the high Sierras, San Francisco, and all the interesting places in southern California.

"People have been very friendly here and I'd like to thank them as it has made it easier for me. I never thought I would be chosen to make the trip, and here I am. It is wonderful," said the young student from Sweden.

"Barrios" Youth See Mexican Show

Some 85 Mexican-American children from the area "barrios" (Mexican-American ghettos) were treated to a trip to the "Mardi Gras de Mexico" at Universal Studios recently, by the Mexican-American Political Association (MAPA).

Armand Nevarro, chairman of MAPA, states that the "nature of the field trip to Universal Studios was to provide an opportunity for the poor children to see, hear and tough the magnificent contributions that the Mexican people have created for the world."

The children saw Mexican artisans working with silver, copper, glass and leather, in the traditional manner. They heard the music of Mexico that expresses the soul of the people.

Nevarro states that the field trip brought out an awareness in the youngsters that their culture and heritage are nothing to be ashamed of. "The children should be proud of their background," he said.

Chaperoning the children on their trip, were Nevarro, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Juaraz, Ramon La Porte, Delia Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. Santos Fuertes, Robert Perez, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Zambrano, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Medina.

The Road To Democracy In Asia Discovered By Alta Loma Family

Phil Capen, Alta Loma School District's traveling administrative assistant, spent this summer in south-east Asian educational work. He was chosen by the Washington D.C. Office of Education to attend a special institute in international affairs in Taipei (Taiwan).

The course study was conducted under the National Defense Education Act in cooperation with the University of Southern California and the US Office of Education. Materials included studies in east and southeast Asia, contemporary China and Chinese civilization and cultural influences.

Mr. Capen's free time activities, he said, did much to make him aware and more sensitive to Asia and its problems of under - development and emerging nationalism. He traveled the area extensively, using local transporation, and meeting native Asians on a social level.

He was joined after 6 weeks by his wife Marie and children Susan, 23, Scotty, 18, Jeffrey, 14 and Todd, 10, who traveled aboard a Chinese passenger-freighter which took them from Los Angeles to Tokyo, South Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

The family highly recommends freighters as a mode of travel; by the time they arrived in Tokyo, they were not only eating with chopstix, but preparing Chinese food in the galley. The leisurely trip allowed time for practice with the Chinese language, also.

On the return voyage from Taiwan to Hong Kong, a trip which usually takes 20 hours, they were delayed at sea for 3 days by typhoon Shirley.

The Capen family was much impressed with the results of US aide to Taiwan. The economy of the island has grown tremendously in diverse areas, including electronics, drugs, petrochemicals and plastics. There is a booming export business ($30 million) in mushrooms and in cement; these products had to be imported in pre-war years. They are also going into glass production.

Usable agricultural land area, 25%, is now producing 3 instead of 2 rice crops a year, and the surplus exported.

The population of the island is better educated, and 46% of the people are under 15 years of age. English is a second language, and is taught in the 6th year of the grade schools.

Taiwan, says Phil Capen, is a sort of "reverse Cuba" with respect to Red China. The free enterprise activities on the island are noted with some concern by the mainland communists, and with interest by the native population.

The influence of Taiwan should do much to offset communist propaganda, he feels.

"The Chinese on Taiwan think the way we do," observes Capen. "They are definitely Western-oriented."

"Everywhere you go, you find television sets. I waited for a bus inside a thatched hut watching a Chinese soap opera on T.V. In almost every home-operated business, the television set is always turned on."

Among their souvenirs are fabrics from Hong Kong, and Japanese watches, plus enough personal experiences to write a travel book.

"Taiwan and Japan prove that foreign aid, if given intelligently, will result in the evolution of the democratic way of life as we know it here," says Capen.

Etiwanda 4-H Leader Reports Conference

(Editor's note: Miss Julie Gearhart, the daughter of Mrs. P.H. Gearhart, lives in Etiwanda. She is an active member of the Etiwanda Energetics 4-H Club who attended a Leadership Conference recently. The Times and News editors felt that Julie's own report of the Conference should be printed.)

Julie Gearhart

August 19-23, I attended the 9th annual State 4-H Leadership conference. It took place, as it always has, at the University of California at Davis.

I and other delegates from San Bernardino County 4-H Clubs left at 10 p.m. on a sky-cruiser bus for Davis. We picked up other delegates at the Victorville fairgrounds.

As an addition to our trip, we spent a day in San Francisco, arriving at 9:30 the next morning. We managed to cram cable car riding, Fisherman's Wharf, Giradelli Square, Chinatown and Haight-Ashbury into one day.

We spent the night in San Francisco, and departed for Davis the next morning.

At the conference, we had a combination of fun, education and excitement. I attended the conference because I'm a junior leader in 4-H, and because I wanted to learn more about leadership. I also attended because I plan to major in veterinary medicine at Davis some day.

The theme of this year's leadership conference was "A World of Opportunity." Discussions, lectures and classes were based on this theme.

Every morning and evening we had an assembly with outstanding speakers and entertainment. During the day we had delegate discussions on various subjects, according to what the speaker that morning had spoken of.

We also had delegate training sessions on 4-H activities. Later, we had leadership in-depth training, the subject which we could choose from 33 classes.

Tuesday, the second day we were there, there was a "get acquainted party."

Wednesday we had our discussions mentioned before, and also an activity period where we could participate in any sport from pool to bowling.

Thursday was the most interesting day for me, because on this day we were allowed to visit any two departments on the campus.

I choose to visit the Zoology and Animal Science departments. That evening we had a conference dance before we left. The next morning, we left for home.

While at Davis, we stayed in a dormitory room and ate in the college cafeterias. The food was excellent, and there was plenty of it. All of the counties in California had delegates at the conference. 42 of them were from San Bernardino county. There were 1800 delegates altogether, the largest conference ever held.

I thoroughly enjoyed the experience, and hope to attend again next year. Not only did I learn more about leadership and teaching, but I also made friends from all over California.

My activities at home include being a member of the Etiwanda Energetics 4-H club, the Alta Loma High School Riding Club, and the Alta Loma Club, and the Alta Loma family riding club. Marilyn Spinella from the Upland Ambassadors 4-H Club also attended the conference with me.

R. K. Klumb, superintendent of substations, made the presentation marking one million man hours without a single lost time industrial accident (from February, 1965, to June, 1968).

Chaffey To Aid CIW

ALTA LOMA -- Chaffey College has reported that it will help the California Institution for Women at Frontera qualify for an accredited vocational nursing program.

Under the terms of a cooperative agreement, approved by the Chaffey board, the college will assume responsibility for such a nursing program for selected CIW residents.

Owing to curriculum limitations, CIW's existing vocational nursing program was denied accreditation by the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners.

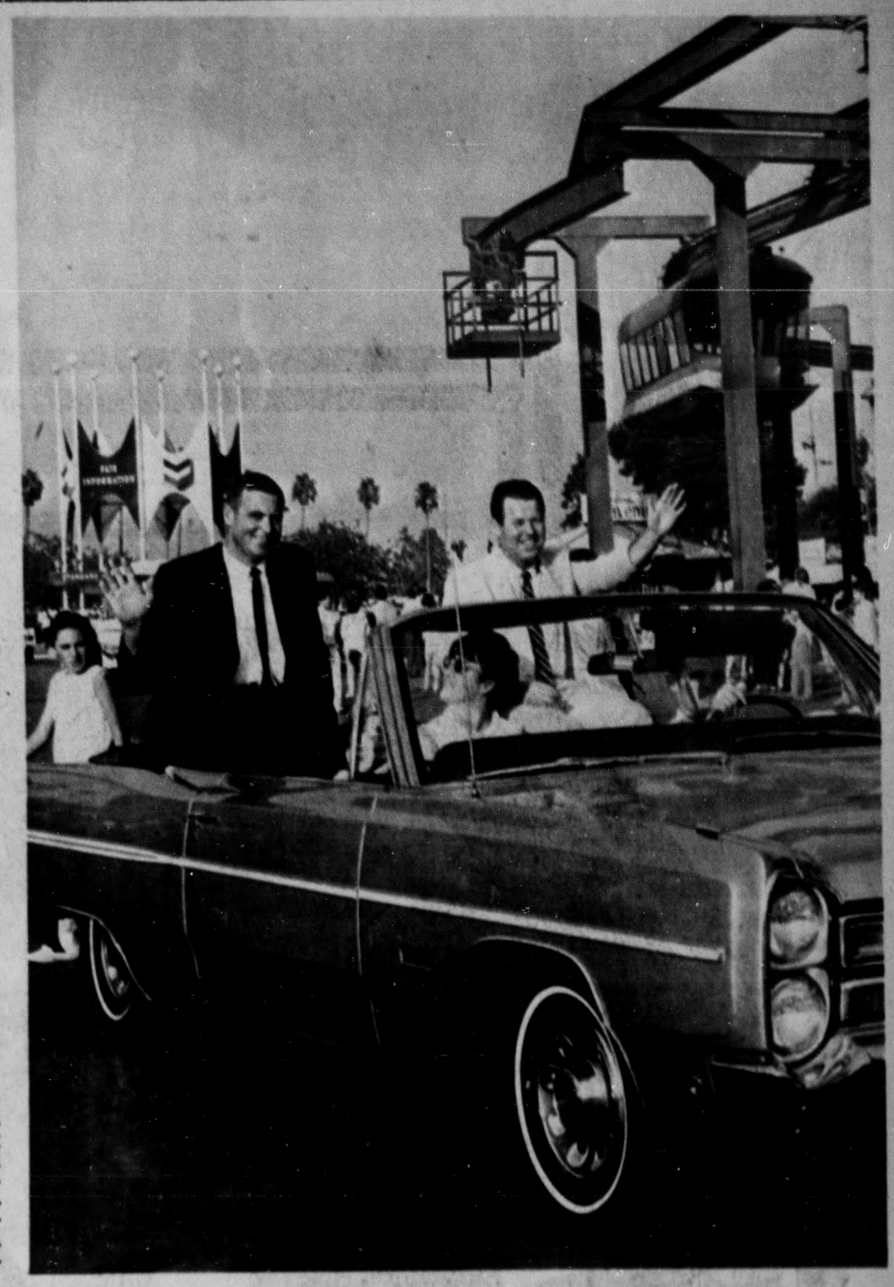

Chaffey and CIW officials believe that a program adhering to the college's vocational nursing curriculum and implemented by college personnel would earn accreditation status.

Mrs. Ruth Schindler, Chaffey nursing chairman, authored the proposal for the cooperative program and volunteered to serve as its director. This position entails extra duty.

She characterized the Chaffey contribution to the program "as a service to society in the rehabilitation of women."

Involved in the selection of CIW students will be Mrs. Schindler, along with Chaffey's vocational educational director Robert Ledyard and nursing student counselor Leonard Mather. Serving as CIW instructor for the course will be Mrs. Barbara Taylor, RN.

Students engaged in the program must be within a year of release from CIW.

GREETING THE CROWD are Mayor Protem Leonard Soper, left, and Councilman Paul Jones as they joined the parade for the final episode of Montclair Day at the Los Angeles County Fair last Wednesday. Soper was also on hand to present a silver plate to the winner of the Montclair Purse at the fair grounds racetrack earlier in the afternoon.

NOTHING TO DO on Friday nights? Why not join the Montclair Chess Club. Composed of players from all over the Pomona Valley the Club includes 50 active players and 80 registered and will welcome anyone ation Department die-hard chess enthusiasts may play all year round. Meetings are held from 6:30 p.m. to 12 midnight at the Monte Vista Elementary School cafeteria on the northeast corner of Monte Vista and Orchard in Montclair.

STANDARD BEARERS lead the way as the Montclair high Cavaliers and Cavalettes march down the thoroughfares of the Los Angeles County fair grounds climaxing Montclair Day at the fair. The contingent included twirlers, the marching band, drill team, and Montclair Mayor Harold Hayes, Mayor Pro tem Leonard Soper and Councilman Paul Jones.

TIME SAVERS

By Stephie Davis

Fall is on the way, and so the busy housewife faces fall cleaning time. Fall cleaning is a big job, because with open windows and children in and out all day, summer makes a lot of dirt! The Aerosol Division of the Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association offers these tips:

(1) An all-purpose aerosol cleaner will go all over the house with you. Spray it on walls, windowsills, blinds, porcelain, tile and metal — it will even loosen dirt on the floor!

(2) Dust-catching spray will speed your chores along. Use it on your dustcloth to pick up the dust from furniture — and on a dust mop to clean the floor.

(3) Windows are a big job — especially when some of them haven't been cleaned since you put up the screens last spring. To make it easier, buy an aerosol window cleaner. A flick of the finger — and your windows sparkle! Another hint — try window spray on mirrors and chromium appliances, too.

(4) A combination rug and upholstery cleaner — some of these aerosols come with a brush attachment — will do rugs and upholstered furniture double-fast. For stubborn stains — try an aerosol spot lifter.

(5) The final touch — furniture polish. Get one of the new spray products with lemon oil or lemon wax added, and when you've finished the wooden furniture, go ahead and shine up the vinyl, leather and metal pieces as well.

Yes — aerosols are time savers. They eliminate accessory items and get the job done faster. Lots of them are "double-duty" products, which saves space in your cleaning closet. Try the handy aerosols.

Your Congressman At Work

by JERRY PETTIS CONGRESSMAN 33rd Dist.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Following lengthy debate, Congress has once again passed the foreign aid bill -- or as some refer to it -- "The Great American Give-Away Program."

I and other members of Congress have often expressed disenchantment with U.S. foreign aid expenditures and especially at this time when we are faced with heavy war costs and burgeoning domestic needs.

It is not the basic purpose of the program I disagree with but rather my criticisms have been directed toward instances of just plain waste, inefficiency, and some very obvious misdirections of the program in specific instances.

At a time when Federal taxes have just been raised, and Federal expenditures are being reduced, the waste and misdirection in foreign aid programs must be stopped.

Senate-House conferees are not attempting to iron our minor differences in the two bills but indications are the amount requested by the Administration will be cut still further to help counter the U.S. balance of payments problems.

I personally feel that in place of sending money to underdeveloped countries, we should furnish them with fertilizer, seeds and pesticides. Too often these countries have used American money to purchase sophisticated military weapons such as jet fighters.

A case in point is India which was singled out for particular criticism for its purchase of large quantities of arms from the Soviet Bloc at a time when it is the largest single recipient of our foreign aid.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi has been a harsh critic of the United States and we wonder to what extent we are subsidizing that country's purchases of Soviet Arms.

This is just one example. There are other areas I intend to investigate as well before voting for final passage when Congress returns next month.

4-H Members Observe National 4-H Club Week

Highlanders 4-H Clubs will be giving their demonstrations on stage near the Mall intersection. On Friday evening, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m., 4-H demonstrations will be presented by members of the Fontana 4-H Pacemakers and the Chino Busy Farmers 4-H Clubs.

Saturday morning will bring demonstrations from members of the Apple Valley Ranchers and Victorville Whirlwinds 4-H Clubs. Highlight of the Saturday afternoon activities will be a 4-H fashion show at 2:00 p.m. Girls from many of San Bernardino County's 4-H Clubs will be modeling the garments they have made as a part of their clothing project.

Beginning October 5, a living 4-H leaf clover, the symbol of the 4-H Club program, will be on display on the south lawn of the county courthouse grounds. Members of the Highlanders 4-H Club have been growing plants that will be put in place to form this symbolic emblem. Joel Martin, gardener-foreman for the County of San Bernardino, and Lieutenant Charles Stewart, project leader for the Highlanders 4-H Club have been supervising this project.

In addition to these special events, many 4-H Clubs will be observing National 4-H in their own communities. Tribute will be paid to the many individuals and organizations that support the local 4-H Clubs.

The 4-H program for San Bernardino is conducted by the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. The county office is located at 566 Lugo Avenue, San Bernardino.

Growth is the spirit of 1968 for California's and the nation's 4-H Clubs.

The theme for this year's National 4-H Club week, October 6-12, is "Join 4-H--A World of Opportunity", says Don L. Appleton, farm advisor in charge of the University of California sponsored youth program in San Bernardino County.

The 32 clubs and 1600 members of 4-H in San Bernardino County are planning now for special events to observe the nation-wide salute to the 4-H movement. The week will mark the 54th anniversary of 4-H Clubs in America.

A special 4-H display is scheduled for October 3-5 at the Inland Center Mall, San Bernardino. On Thursday evening, from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m., members from the Mentone and

UC and Industry Form Bean Research Group

DAVIS—A California Dry Bean Research Council has been formed of industry and University of California personnel to promote research that will improve dry bean varieties and production.

Financing of the research program will be by voluntary contributions by growers, warehouses and dealers on a per bag basis. Funds will be administered by the Council and allocated to research institutions for specific problems.

The organizers said their interest in research was sparked by the work of Francis Smith, Professor of Agronomy at Davis, who has developed 15 varieties of beans, many of them resistant to various plant diseases or pests.

Your Speedometer Is It Correct ?

The growing tendency to modify automobiles by using larger tires than the original equipment has resulted in many motorists exceeding the speed limit, Captain Vern F. Nicholson of the San Bernardino office of the California Highway Patrol warns.

"The speedometer of an automobile is calibrated for the size of tire which originally was installed on the car," Capt. Nicholson said.

"Increasing the size of the tire nullifies the calibration and destroys the accuracy of the speedometer. For example, changing from a 6.00 x 13 to 7.00 x 13 tire, which increases the cross-section by one inch, will result in substantially higher speed than that shown on the speedometer."

The Patrol recommends that any tire size change of more than one-half inch in cross-section be accompanied by a recalibration of the speedometer, Capt. Nicholson stated.

Jerry's Journal

by JERRY PETTIS
CONGRESSMAN, 33rd Dist.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Rep. Jerry Pettis, R-Loma Linda said Sept 9 the huge backlog of court cases is a major reason for the tremendous increase in our nation's crime rate.

The San Bernardino County lawmaker said many criminals are permitted to go free on bail until they can be tried. During this time, Pettis said, they are free to rob, rape and murder.

The congressman cited a crime story in the nation's capital to illustrate his point. A drug store chain had been held up 63 times in the past year-and-a-half, Pettis said. Arrests were made in 16 of the cases but only three of the 16 came to trial. Failure to try the cases was the result of a heavy backlog, Pettis said.

"Moreover, adult defendants in the 16 cases were on probation or out on bond awaiting trial in other cases when they were picked up in connection with the drug store robberies.

"So, while defendants are awaiting trial for one offense, they frequently are out committing other crimes. And, once they get to trial they are not necessarily given a just penalty. Probation is often the 'slap-on-the-wrist' penalty.

"Even if they do go to jail, most of these persons convicted of robbery in our nation's capital can get out in two years."

Pettis said a joint House-Senate Crime Committee to be established with passage of his recent bill, would study ways and means of clearing the backlog in court calendars so justice can work speedily and efficiently.

OIA Already Betters '67 Traffic Mark

ONTARIO -- Almost as many scheduled airline passengers arrived or departed Ontario International Airport in the past eight months as during the entire year of 1967, according to OIA Manager Robert M. Hamilton, Jr.

During January through December, 1967, the airlines enplaned or deplaned 328,881 passengers. During January through August, 1968, the airlines enplaned or deplaned 311,336 passengers. Hamilton said.

The 311,336 scheduled passengers during January through August represents a 51.3 per cent increase over the same period of time in 1967, Hamilton said. During January through August, 1967, the airlines reported 205,800 passengers.

Air freight shopped from OIA during the first eight months of this year is 431,360 pounds compared to 257,574 pounds shipped during the same reporting period of 1967 -- an increase 67.5 per cent.

Air West, Cable Commuter and Western Airlines (who have served OIA since 1955, 1967 and 1949 respectively) were joined in June 1968, by Pacific Southwest Airlines. Air California has announced plans to begin service from Ontario next month.

Undefeated Upland, Montclair Open SAL Play, Friday

ROUGH GOING -- Upland players seem to be all around Alta Loma halfback Danny Stevenson (40) on a short yardage attempt in the first quarter. Stevenson efforts were good enough as he made enough for a first down, one of the few obtained by the Braves throughout the contest.

Upland Topples Braves For 2nd Shutout Win

It was the same story for Upland High last Friday, strong defense, as the Highlanders defeated Alta Loma 20-0, for their second straight shutout victory.

The way the game began it looked as though the Braves had left themselves completely "defenseless." Upland took over completely from the start, forcing fumbles and bottling up pass receivers, and scoring twice in the first quarter.

It appeared to be a rout, as halfback Steve Quinn went through the Braves' defensive wall like a knife through butter. The Upland workhorse was the spearhead of the Highlander attack with 106 yards rushing in 21 attempts and two touchdowns.

On the visitor's first offensive push of the first quarter the Highlanders drove 71 yards for their first tally with Quinn going four yards for the initial 6 points. The extra point try by place kicker Stan Bane was wide to the left and Upland had to settle for a 6 point advantage.

Late in the first quarter the Highlanders recovered one of five Brave fumbles on their own 31.

Eight plays later Quinn scored on an eight-yard end run with four seconds remaining in the quarter. Quinn again was the dominating force gaining 34 yards on four carries. A 15-yard piling-on penalty against the Braves aided the Upland cause.

Bane again kicked for the PAT and this time was right on target, giving the Highlanders a comfortable 13-0 lead.

The Brave defense stiffened after that and limited the visitors to only one more score, although the invaders crossed the 50-yard line on six other occasions.

Behind the pin-point passing of quarterback Paul Katona Upland managed a final tally in the third period. The touchdown drive was climaxed when Katona passed 11 yards to end Ernie Asebedo who caught the ball on the 1 and scooted into the end zone. Bane was accurate again with the extra point conversion and the scoreboard registered 20 points for the Highlanders.

Outstanding defensive player for the Highlanders was linebacker Ray Bell who blocked two of Jesse Loebach's punts. He was also instrumental in the forcing of the Braves' five fumbles.

Upland opens San Antonio League play against Bonita Friday night at the Bearcats field. Bonita, undefeated in two pre-league outings, will give the Upland defense a real test with a sound running game.

The Braves open Hacienda League play with Walnut High. Alta Loma will have a slight advantage with a more experienced squad since this is Walnut's first varsity season.

DIDN'T MAKE IT -- Alta Loma halfback Rick Pirdy (20), tries right end for a sweep around the Upland defense with Highlander Rick Denning (66) in hot pursuit. Pirdy's attempt was unsuccessful as the visitors quickly plugged the gap to stop the speedster for no gain.

WITH T. J. QUINN (13) leading interference Upland wingback Steve Quinn (42) starts on a jaunt around right end during the Upland-Alta Loma game, won by the Highlanders 20-0. Quinn scored two touchdowns in the contest and gained 106 yards rushing.

Cavaliers Defense Holds Eagles

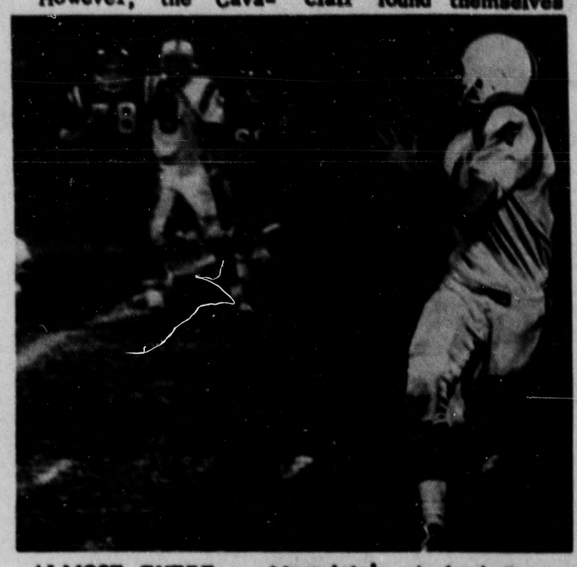

Montclair was winning both the offensive and defensive battle against Eisenhower last Friday, but the scoreboard indicated a different story through three quarters of play with the Eagles in front, 2-0.

It looked as though the game would remain that way as both teams had trouble getting a sustained touchdown drive in gear. Each time both teams were within striking distance defense prevailed by causing fumbles or holding the offensive units to a minimum of four downs.

The big break came in the final 9 minutes of play when an Eagle punt was downed on the Cavalier three yard line. Normally such a position is considered poor, if not an impossible field position.

On the first play from scrimmage halfback Bob Winkler burst up the middle for a fourteen yard gain, temporarily putting his team in a more advantageous situation with a first down.

However, the Cavalier's favorable position was shortlived as Montclair found themselves

ALMOST THERE -- Montclair's wingback Russ Austin awaits a pass from quarterback Greg Campbell which he eventually received and ran to the one yard line to set up the only Cavalier score of the game with Eisenhower.

1st and 15 on their 12-yard line after an illegal procedure penalty. It was at this point that quarterback Greg Campbell dropped back to pass and hit flanker Rick Rosas on a slant-in over the middle. Rosas broke clear of the Eagles' secondary and didn't stop until he ran out of gas on the Eisenhower 12.

A rushing play netted half a yard and was followed by a 10 yard pass play from Campbell to Russ Austin who was bowled out of bounds on the Eagle 1. Winkler then took a hand-off over right tackle for the only Cavalier score. The extra point was successful also.

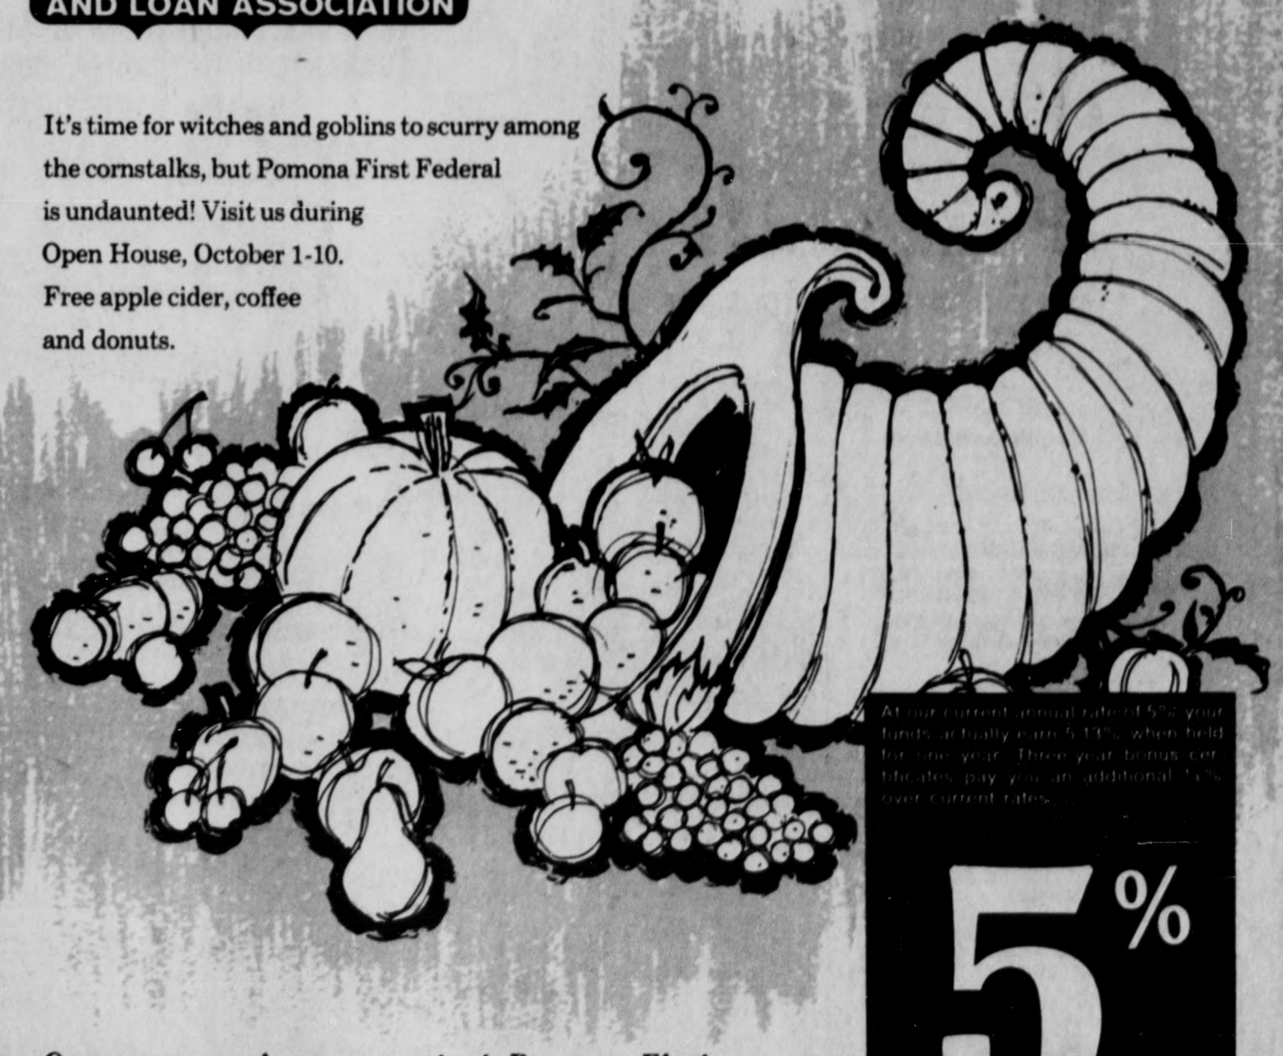

The Eagles' only score materialized with nine seconds left in the first half and Montclair with a third down on its own 2-yard line. Eagle guard Mike Black dumped halfback Bill Daniels in the Cavalier end zone for a safety and the Eagles' only tally.

Sirhan Trial

Unless attorneys for the prosecution or defense request a delay in the trial of Sirhan B. Sirhan, 24, the accused assassin of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, the trial will begin on its scheduled date, November 1, Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer said today.

The Judge made the comment in reply to a statement issued last week by County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, Chairman of the Supervisors' Court Committee, who had sought the delay because of the trial's closeness to the November 5th presidential election.

Judge Schauer noted that District Attorney Evelle J. Younger, whose office will prosecute Sirhan, and Russell E. Parsons, Sirhan's attorney, have agreed to the November 1 date.

Hahn, in asking for the postponement, told of emotional feelings during the period of a presidential election and added that, "It would be in the best interest of justice if the trial were continued until after November 5."

The Judge added that he would consider a postponement on legal grounds such as the need for additional time to prepare the case, the unavailability of witnesses or conflicts in calendars of any of the lawyers.

"Any requests should be made before November 1," he continued.

Sirhan's next court appearance is scheduled for October 4, when the Judge is expected to disclose the name of the judge to preside over the case and the court site.

Earlier this month, Younger said that selection of a jury will probably not be completed until after the election.

Ability, Not Disability Counts With Worker

Ability, not disability, is what counts, and the week of Oct. 6 through Oct. 12, has been designated as "Hire the Physically Handicapped" week. This 23rd annual observance also marks the 21st anniversary of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Who are the "Handicapped"? According to the National Center for Health Statistics, more than 22 million Americans have physical handicaps. More than 19 million people have mental or emotional disorders severe enough to need psychiatric care. Nearly 6 million persons are mentally retarded, but only one in ten is so severely retarded as to need constant care. The rest are more mildly retarded and with proper training, most of them can work.

Their way has been eased by enlightened employers who are convinced of the sound business value of hiring handicapped workers based on the records of productivity, reliability, and loyalty set by the handicapped themselves.

However, there remain serious obstacles to overcome: reluctant employers, misconceptions; misinformation; and prejudice.

Maybe you can help, Mr. Employer. Experience has proved it's good business to Hire the Handicapped. They have fewer lost work days than their fellow workers. They have 10 percent less accidents than their fellow workers, and survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that handicapped workers actually can outperform their fellow workers, job for job.

Diet Need Not Be Unpleasant To Be Effective -- Heart Assoc.

By - Harold Miller, M.D., President Los Angeles County Heart Association

We are bombarded with diet information from every form of media these days. The very word "diet" conjurs up a restriction on the foods we eat - and quite often our favorite foods it seems! Actually, a diet shouldn't be unpleasant to be effective. The trick is to come up with a balanced yet tasty diet - one with variety, too, so that you will stay on it.

I'm particularly diet-conscious because diet and nutrition are very important factors in the prevention and treatment of the most prevalent cause of death in our country, namely, coronary artery disease, the commonest type of heart disease.

Being overweight is not the sole cause of heart and blood vessel disease but it is definitely a health hazard whether you have heart disease or not. All heart patients, with their doctor's supervision, should maintain a desireable weight.

Years ago it was considered quite fashionable to be "stylishly stout" not only in this country but in many foreign nations as well. It indicated affluence and that you were well fed. This attitude is outdated now, of course, yet there are still people in this jet age who assume one must naturally put on weight in middle age.

One of my patients, Jim, was a typical American male. His age was 45; his condition flabby. He said he had been trying to keep his weight down and what I could see he was certainly keeping it down - around his middle! I told him by adding pounds, he was subtracting years from his lifespan. The lack of regular physical activity also placed its toll on Jim's body.

A person becomes overweight when they regularly consume more calories than they use up. It has been observed that sometimes a past pleasant association cause people to eat foods they probably wouldn't ordinarily. For example, chocolate cake with ice cream is served you. Of couse , you know you don't need all those calories but you unconsciously associated this dessert with a pleasant childhood experience - perhaps it was always served on your birthday.

Lucky are today's youngsters whose parents have taught them proper dietary habits. These early formed habits stay with them for life and helps protect their heart health in adulthood.

Diet is a vast subject and space limits me from going into detail on this subject. There are general rules for everyone to follow and your own physician is the only one who should be entrusted to recommend the right diet for your own personal requirements. Stay away from the fad diets. Not all diets, regardless how scientific, are good for everyone.

A certain diet may be effective for your friend but harmful to you. Your health is much too precious to entrust to anyone other than your doctor.

Scripps Intern Would Modify Electoral Plan

CLAREMONT -The first Teaching Intern in Political Science at Scripps College believes the electoral college system should be retained and that party conventions should continue, with some streamlining and modification.

Dick Elmore, a doctoral candidate at Claremont Graduate School, will teach a one-semester course entitled "Introduction to Political Science" at Scripps. The class will study american political parties, how they are formed and operate. U.S. parties will be compared with those in other countries, and the last third of the course will look into presidential election politics, principally those in the 1960, 1964 and 1968 elections.

Elmore became particularly interested in political science as a result of two weeks in Washington D. C. meeting with President John F. Kennedy and his advisors in 1962. Elmore was national president of the student branch of the Y.M.C.A. (Hi-Y) and a member of the National Y.M.C.A. Board and involved in a Reader's Digest Foundation program designed to interest young people in the political scene. Although he has not been politically active other than in college (he received his B. A. from Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash.) Elmore has definite ideas.

"I feel the national parties have to have conventions, at least once every four years, to keep a sense of unity going. I would like to see them nominate a slate of presidential candidates, and then have a general election to select the candidates for each party," the Spokane, Wash. native said.

"There are many arguments against the electoral college as being outmoded; however, I feel it serves a useful purpose in allowing the large urban states to have the most say in selecting the president. The candidates must campaign in the cities and become acquainted with urban problems in order to secure sufficient electoral votes to win. In the 1960 election, John F. Kennedy won a majority of the electoral college votes with a slender majority of the popular vote primarily because he did appeal to the urban areas. The college acts as a protective device against people's reactions to urban problems," he said.

A member of Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, Elmore spent the summer of 1966 in Washington, D.C. as a management intern in the Department of the Interior. While at Whitman College he was a Reader in Political Philosophy and also a member of the Varsity Tennis Team.

The intern teaching program is under the direction of George Blair, Professor of Government at Claremont Graduate School, and funded by the Ford Foundation. Blair will act in an advisory capacity to Elmore's class.

Elmore, who is married to the former Lynn Nicholson, plans to continue teaching or go into government service upon completing his doctoral program in political science at CGS.

Good state highways, county roads and city streets are important to Californians for the Golden State relies upon them for the transportation of people and the things they grow and make. This is good reason why we should observe National Highway Week September 22-28. Freeways are safe ways.

Each year the fatality rate for freeways is far lower than that of other State highways, city streets and county roads. Support freeway construction during National Highway Week, Sept. 22-28.

Buy A Gas Range This Fall And Receive A Spicy Bonus

A fall gas range promotion, now under way, is offering a "spicy" bonus to purchasers of gas cooking appliances.

Participating Southland dealers are presenting a decorative wall rack, filled with Schilling spices, to every customer who buys a gas range prior to October 31, according to G. W. Neilson, sales manager for the gas company's Eastern Division.

Sponsored by Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies, in conjunction with the Schilling - Mc Cormick Company, the promotion offers a spice rack for each range sold during the campaign in areas served by the utility companies.

As a special offer to introduce gas self-cleaning ovens, a deluxe three-tier spice rack will be presented to customers who purchase these ranges.

Homemakers will find a number of beneficial changes in modern gas ranges, the sales manager pointed out. Among them, he continued, are new gas self-cleaning ovens and new types of ignition systems.

The self-cleaning ovens can easily remove food and grease buildups that accumulate during baking, broiling or roasting. During the cleaning period, oven temperatures will reach 975 degrees, but the outer surfaces of the range will be no warmer than normal baking temperatures.

Other improvements in gas ranges this year are the new ignition systems --solid state and spark units -- which will ultimately replace the constant burning pilot.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS

NORMA ELLINGTON, Beverly Hills — "When parents everywhere accept their own individual responsibility for disciplining their children, instead of expecting it to come from law officers and teachers, then, maybe we'll get somewhere."

SIR RONALD MARTIN HOWE, ex Scotland Yard investigative exec. on Calif. tour—"Fraud cases are much more interesting than murders. After all, in a murder case the best witness is never there."

JOHN J. MURTHA, S.F.—"The past is in the past but is it too much to expect our political leaders to learn just a little from history?"

SAUL DAVID, L.A., on Czech oppression by Russia —"Where are the teach-ins on the immorality of Soviet coercion? Where are the ragged disciples of individual libertery . . . tell it like it is and stand up to the oppressors, man?"

RACHEL FOSTER, S.F. secretary — "A great deal of happiness comes in the pursuit of success, as well as in the achievement of it."

Top Trotters On Scene, Sat. At Hollywood

A classy field of free-for-all trotters, headed by Real Speed, second in last year's American Trotting Classic, is in prospect for the $15,000 Hollywood Trot which will highlight the first Saturday program (Oct. 5) of the 1968 Western Harness Racing season at Hollywood Park.

Expected to provide Real Speed with his toughest competition in the Hollywood are Vornado Stable's Bright Chance, who registered the fastest trotting mile of the 1968 Chicago season when he defeated Real Speed in 1:59 4/5, and Victor and Morris Zeinfeld's Chancey Guy, a son of Jean Laird who scored three straight triumphs at Sportsman's Park before arriving on the local scene.

Real Speed, who has earned more than $30,000 in 1968 despite being plagued with foot troubles, will be seeking to match his WHR performances of last fall, when he reeled off three straight victories for owners William and Betty Feld of Chicago. Bobby Williams, who had his finest WHR campaign in 1967, is Real Speed's regular driver.

Newest Cookware Colors

IF avocado green was the rage in 1967 housewares, what will be the 1968 height of fashion? Corning months ago foresaw a bold newcomer in glowing warm colors and has introduced its new Pyrex ware with yellow and orange Daisy decorations. But market research also predicted continuing popularity of avocado. So stores now carry a remarkable addition to the familiar gleaming white—avocado Corning Ware round pieces. (NP Features)

TIME SAVERS

BACK TO COLLEGE

Autumn is just around the corner, and so is back-to-school time for millions. Many of you will be going away to college, packing up clothes, shoes, cosmetics and shaving gear, and trying to remember the thousand and one items you'll need away from home. Before you close that suitcase, check these suggestions in handy spray form from the Aerosol Division of the Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association.

(1) Keep your closets and dresser drawers fresh with an aerosol sachet. They come in a variety of fragrances, from sweet floral scents to a masculine lime or sandalwood, so your clothes — and you — will always be "nice to be near".

(2) Going away to school is meeting new people — professors, future boy — and girlfriends, sorority and fraternity members. First impressions are important, and what makes a better impression than a shiny pair of shoes? Pack a spray to keep your leather footwear glossy, and an aerosol cleaner and restorer for suede.

(3) Starch is a must — there's no one but you to keep your clothes clean and pressed now. Aerosol starch is quick and easy, and no problem to store.

(4) Make room in the suitcase for a spray antiseptic. It's wonderful for the little cuts and burns that are part of daily living, and less provident roommates will call you a lifesaver!

(5) Last but certainly not least, don't forget all the personal grooming sprays you normally use. Take your colognes, hair spray, deodorant, shaving cream — and add an aerosol foot refresher. On a big college campus your feet may need it!

SHE REALLY DOES IT! - Since opening in July, ABC Marine World in Redwood City, California, has received letters from around the nation asking if it really has an elephant that water skis. As this picture shows, the answer is yes. Judy, a 600-pound baby Indian elephant, steps on a pair of giant water skis four times per day for a trip around the 60-acre park's Olympic Island lagoon. The 18-month-old pachyderm, who enjoys the water and is a good swimmer, is one of the biggest hits at the new amusement and educational complex.

20-MILLION CALIFORNIANS AND THE STATE'S ECONOMY depend on our highway system to save lives, time and money! Concentrate on good driving habits now.

Nearly 12-million vehicles travel California's 162-thousand-mile roadway network. About 11% of the total national traffic occurs in California. Learn MORE about California highways.

One of the most important factors in California's economic well-being, says Governor Ronald Reagan, is our highway system -- the streets, roads, highways and freeways that make our way of life the most mobile in history.

YOU are a stockholde in California's invaluabl freeway and expressw system! Increase your di vidends . . . lower acc dent and fatality rates, b active support of highwa improvment and con- struction projects.

NO SNOW JOB -- While most people were sweltering in the summer heat, these technicians play it cool and enjoy their work of inspecting a rocket engine at North American Rockwell Corporation's Rocketdyne Division in Canoga Park, Calif. This type of environmental testing is done on all rocket engines during the development phase to double-check the effects of fuel. Rocketdyne builds the J-2 and F-1 rocket engines for the Saturn V launch vehicle which will power astronauts to the moon.

Dr. Geo. Benson Will Retire As CMC Head

CLAREMONT - Plans for the retirement of Dr. George C.S. Benson as president of Claremont Men's College were announced by Edwin H. Corbin, chairman of the board of trustees.

"The board deeply regrets that health considerations have led Dr. Benson to feel that he should be relieved of the responsibilities of the presidency within a reasonable period of time. We are, however, glad that his health is good enough so that we shall have adequate time--perhaps two to three years--for an intensive, lively, and nationwide search. Selecting a president of Dr. Benson's caliber will not be easy. We are also very thankful that Dr. Benson will be able to continue to serve the college, in some other important capacity, until normal retirement age."

Easy Quilting

Turn that old cardboard card table into baby quilt frames by removing the top of the table anl tacking the quilt onto the wooden frame with carpet tacks. Quilting is made easier because it is within reach. The frame can be folded up and easily stored away.

How to Retire

If you are thinking about retiring, and have a good sense of humor, you might like to read the U.S. Department of Labor's booklet, "Retired Couple's Budget for a Moderate Living Standard."

It doesn't make much sense, but it has its diverting moments. Its disclaimer is a dandy, saying that its "moderate" living standard doesn't show how an "average" retired couple actually spends its money, nor does it show how they should spend it, since people will probably go above or below it. And of course its cost figures, having been prepared in 1966, have little relevance in these federally-instigated inflationary days. Nor are some of its instructions too helpful. Take for instance the formula for finding the average number of B.t.u.'s required of heating fuel in a given city: "Million of B.t.u.'s equals 0.75 (minus 302.817962 plus 100.285800) times the logarithm of the normal number of annual degree days."

If you can't fit that into your budget, maybe, as the Wall Street Journal suggests, you'll be better off not retiring. Our mind boggles.

TEEN PSYCHOLOGY

Why—in manner and bearing—are some teen-agers clearly adults, while others are still children? Very often it's the teen-ager's parents who make the difference. Don't wait for your teen-ager to "outgrow" certain adolescent problems. Acne, say the makers of Ice-O-Derm, is a potential psychological as well as physical scarrer, and should be dealt with seriously.

Cancer Control Development Told By CMA

In the treatment of any disease, the aim is to cure or -- if cure is not attainable -- to control. Both these aims can be achieved in many instances in the treatment of cancer.

It is the hope of medical science that eventually all cancers can be treated by chemo-therapy--that is, by the administration of healing drugs. Only in the past twenty years has progress been made toward that goal -- progress that is admittedly limited, but definitely encouraging. There are a number of drugs which, although they do not cure cancer, do effectively curb the damage of the disease, either by temporarily checking its spread or by relieving pain and prolonging the life of the patient.

These medications are most effective in treating the non-tumorous cancers, such as Hodgkin's disease, other malignancies of the lymphatic system, and some forms of leukemia. They can, in addition, provide relief in some cases of cancer of the lungs, breast, ovaries, testes, stomach, and colon. One of the limiting factors in treating cancer with drugs is that the drugs seem eventually to lose their effectiveness. Another problem is that these powerful drugs often produce disturbing and even dangerous side effects.

However, as research increases our understanding of the action of cancer-destroying drugs and enables us to produce more refined versions of these drugs, the outlook for their more widespread use improves. It has already been established that it is possible to achieve a complete cure for at least one rare form of cancer through the use of chemotherapy. That other more prevalent forms may also be vanquished by drugs seems, at this point in time, a plausible hope.

At the present time, the treatment of choice for most forms of cancer is surgery, sometimes in combination with radiation therapy or drugs or both. In the surgical treatment of cancer, the aim is to remove the malignant tumor, as well as surrounding tissue into which the cancer may already have spread.

Sometimes the surgeon will also remove lymph nodes near the site of the tumor to reduce the risk that cancerous cells which may have already entered the nodes will be carried through the lymphatic system to other sites in the body.

Radiation therapy is, to an increasing extent, being used in the treatment of malignancies. It is estimated that today some form of radiation (either alone or in conjunction with other forms of treatment) is used in treating six out of every ten cancer patients.

To cure cancer, a radiation dose must be of sufficiently high voltage to destroy cancer cells, but not so high as to inflict serious damage to normal tissue surrounding or overlying the cancer. Cancers at superficial sites such as the mouth and the skin can be effectively treated with low-energy x-ray, while internal organs can be reached only by high-energy x-ray. In recent years, supervoltage x-ray equipment has been developed which makes it possible for penetrating rays to reach their target with minimal scattering of radiation elsewhere in the body.

One of the most impressive triumphs of radiation in the treatment of cancer has been the experience with localized Hodgkin's disease. In more than 50 per cent of patients with the malignancy of the lymph nodes, the disease has been completely controlled for periods exceeding 15 years, as the result of treatment with large doses of x-ray.

Any consideration of the treatment of cancer must come to terms with what is meant by "cure" in relation to this disease. Doctors tend to be very conservative about designating a cancer as cured. When they do so, they usually mean that the patient has had no sign of the disease for five or more years after diagnosis and treatment.

Some cancers which seem to be under control do flare up again and so most physicians recommend lifetime follow-up for cured cancer patients. At present, the cure rate for cancer is one out of three.

Jr. Achievement Kickoff Set For Thursday

Six hundred businessmen and women -- Advisers from over 175 leading business and industrial firms located in the counties of Los Angeles, Orange, River - side, San Bernardino and Ventura -- will take part in Junior Achievement's "Kick-Off" dinner-meeting at Rodger Young Auditorium, Thursday evening, October 3.

These men and women make up the teams of volunteer Advisers who will counsel 4,200 high school teenagers as they organize and operate miniature Junior Achievement firms during the next eight months.

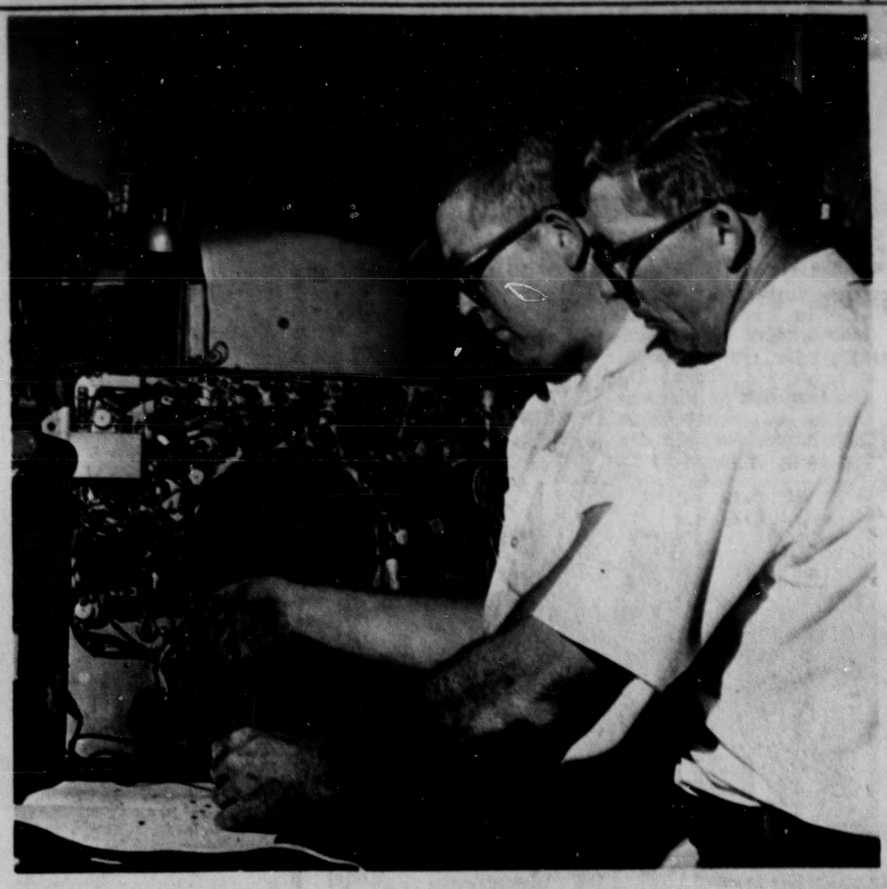

The dinner - meeting marks the close of a two-week training period for the Advisers and kicks off the JA program year, according to W.F. Snelling, chairman of the event. Snelling is vice president - manufacturing of North American Rockwell's Aerospace and Systems Group and a member of Junior Achievement's board of directors.

Walter F. Dunn, Jr., retired U. S. Army colonel, will address the group. He is currently an assistant vice president of Coast Federal Savings and Loan Association and a member of their Free Enterprise Speakers Bureau.

Colonel Dunn was a combat engineer in World War II and in the Korean conflict. He was educated at Fordham, University of Virginia, and UCLA as well as the Imperial University of Japan and University of Heidelberg in Germany. He served as military adviser to Darryl Zanuck in the movie, "The Longest Day", in which he also played a prominent part.

Sixteen-year old Richard N. Lane, Jr., holder of JA's title of "Out - standing Undergraduate Achiever" and a senior at Long Beach Polytechnic High School, will speak on behalf of southern California's Achievers. Bur - bank's Providence High School senior Regina Shermer, 17, Miss Junior Achievement of 1968, will act as hostess.

More than 200 teenage corporations will be or - ganized in the twelve JA Business Centers in the Southland during the week of October 14.

Group activities and travel are covered under the policy, which pro - vides a variety of hospital and medical ser - vices and supplies. Aetna, largest multiple-line insurance organization in the U.S., is making the program available to youth organizations across the nation.

Year of Decision

1969 will be America's year of decision in the war on environmental pollution by our population.

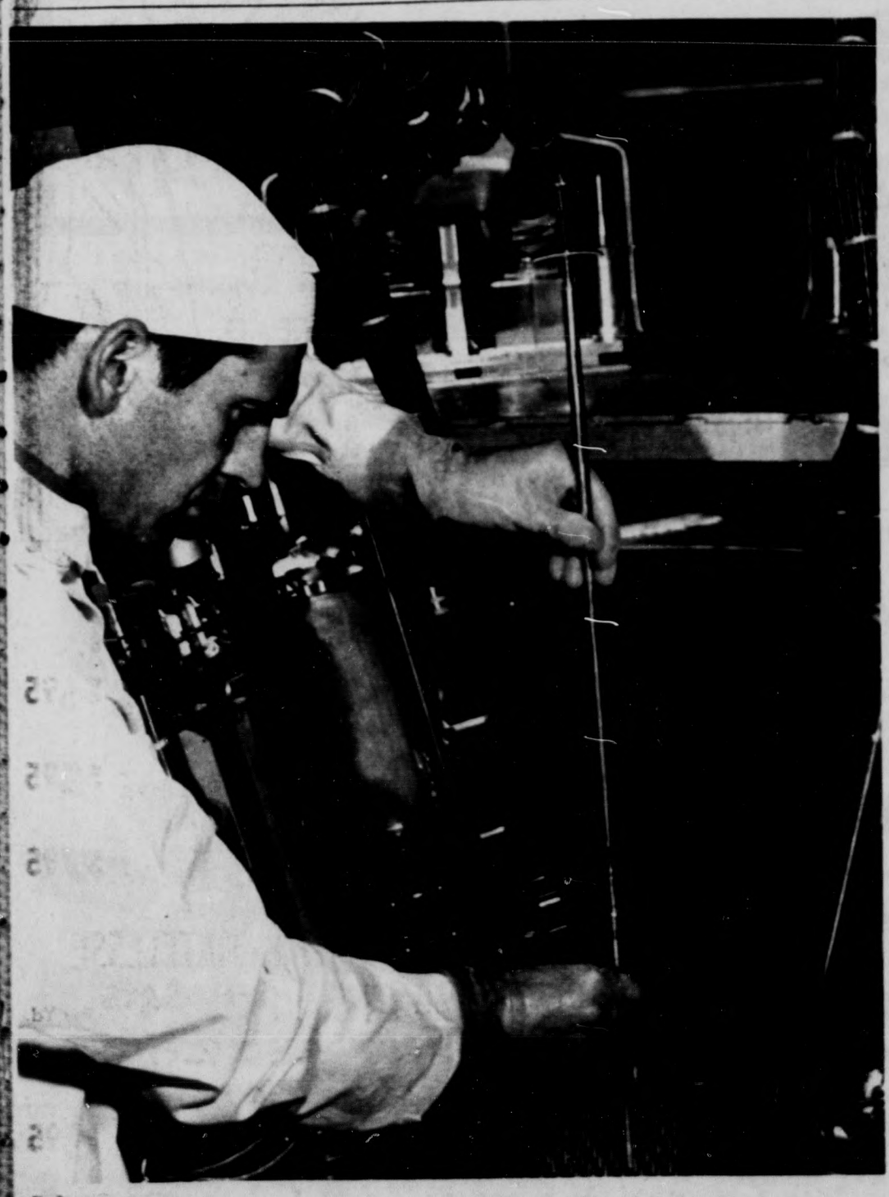

With increased public awareness that our major cities are fast becoming uninhabitable because of air and water pollution and that only a crash program can save them, Dr. Vsevolod Blinoff, President, Alcolac Chemical Corporation, Baltimore, Md., believes that we must control our environmental pollution or perish as did civilizations in the past.

Dr. Blinoff, a world-renowned chemist, has built a successful business through the development and manufacture of chemicals that attack human and industrial pollutants at their source.

With fresh water supplies actually getting scarcer while population and fresh water demands increase, federal and local governments will be pouring billions into environmental pollution control.

Alcolac's success reflects this anti-pollution drive. Since 1957, sales have grown from $1.8 million to $9 million, and current earnings (27¢ per share) more than doubled last year's (13¢ per share).

Obviously, there is profit in pollution control--both for Americans in their fight to save their civilization and for far-seeing investors. (NP Features)

Groundbreaking Ceremonies Held At Hitchcock Ranch

This past weekend over 250 people from the area served by the Old Baldy Council participated in groundbreaking ceremonies for the Council's new Holcomb Valley Scout Ranch.

The ceremonies were held at the Hitchcock Ranch three miles north of Big Bear in Holcomb Valley. Mr. Ernie Wagner, Council Vice President, served as master-of-ceremonies for the groundbreaking while Mr. George Streit hosted an underground barbecue.

The groundbreaking ceremony was a unique one. The gold shovel used jointly by Council President William Toothaker, Campaign General Chairman Paul Walker, and Camp Development Chairman Dan Milliken was to start a new gold claim for boys on the exact site of the original Holcomb Valley gold strike. The new claim will be the gold in the development of character development, citizenship training and physical growth for boys who will enjoy the camp beginning next summer.

Each of the people in attendance received an ore sample as a novelty, one of the samples contained real nuggets. Mrs. Robert Shacklett of Claremont was the lucky winner.

The Camp Development Committee, under Dr. Dan Milliken, is proceeding with plans this fall for the initial development of the camp. The Executive Board of the Old Baldy Council has approved a planning budget of $75.000 for the first phase which will provide facilities for four troop campsites for weekend camping.

The initial development will be only the beginning of the overall development program for a long-term camping facility which will serve up to 750 boys per week.

Dr. Milliken reported that a 100,000 gallon water tank is now under construction. The engineering of the pipelines is completed and the relocation of the present public thoroughfare along the eastern edge of the camp property is more than half finished.

Before the winter snows begin the Camp Ranger's home, pump house, and storage building are to be constructed.

Paul Walker, the campaign Finance Chairman, pointed out that additional funds will be necessary in order to complete the facilities for a full fledged summer camp.

More than 30,000 military atomic devices are stockpiled by the United States compared with 15,000 by Russia.

SCE To Award Scholarships Up To $42,000

College scholarships and collateral grants totaling up to $42,000 will be awarded again this year by Southern California Edison Company.

Jack K. Horton, Edison chairman, announced that six $4,000 scholarships will be awarded, each accompanied by a direct grant of $3,000 to the private colleges attended by scholarship winners.

In announcing the 10th year of the Edison scholarship program, Horton said the purpose of the program is two-fold:

"To help promising young students reach their educational goals and, at the same time, to give financial assistance to private colleges and universities in Southern California."

The program is open to all high school seniors either living in, or attending school in, Edison's service territory in central and southern California, and a portion of Nevada, he said.

One $4,000 scholarship for tuition and expenses will be awarded in each of the electric utility's six geographic divisions. Winners may attend their choice of 24 participating private colleges and universities in the Southland.

Brochures describing the Edison program in detail are now available through high school counselors or at the nearest Edison business office.

VCT THESPIANS - Gerald O'Connor, Martha Fuller, Lupe Calzada, and Steve Mintz (left to right) are currently appearing in the Valley Community Theatre production of Neil Simon's 'Barefoot In The Park.' The production is directed by Thurman Brown. 'Barefoot In The Park' concerns itself with the age old problems of adjusting to married life. A young married couple (Calzada and Mintz) have rented a cramped apartment in a New York Brownstone and besides having to cope with six flights of stairs to get to their home, they also have a middle-aged Don Juan living on the roof above them and an indulgent mother-in-law who pops in at the most inopportune moments. The production plays Friday and Saturdays at 8:30. The Theatre is located at 887 West 4th Street, Pomona. For reservations, call 622-6954.

St. Louise's Plan Pot Luck Sat., Oct. 5

Halloween pumpkins and black cats will decorate the tables at St. Louise de Marillac Women's Club "pot luck" luncheon on Saturday, October 5, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. on the parish grounds. All women of the parish are cordially invited to attend, admission free; just bring along your favorite salad or casserole.

Mrs. Carl Lang, Jr., membership chairman, will be giving away one-year memberships in the Women's Club, to three lucky ticket holders, as door prizes.

St. Louise de Marillac is located at Bonnie Cove and Cypress in Covina.

Letters to Editor

Dear Bill:

While giving a lecture on Pet Care to a group of children at a summer camp, a young child asked me, "What is the difference between a dog catcher and a Humane Officer?"

At the time I had a short and brief answer. However, later the same day I gave that same question some serious thought and found the following description to be letter perfect for the answer.

Bruce Richards

POMONA HUMANE OFFICER
VERSUS DOG CATCHER

What are the distinctions between a "Humane Officer" and a "dog catcher"?

Badge Diaz, who proudly carries the official title of State Humane Officer, 18 years of service with the Pomona Valley Humane Society, has provided us with his thoughts on this subject.

Mr. Diaz said that the qualifications of a Humane Officer have to come from a source closely associated with the functions of the department.

"There has to be: the curiosity of the cat, meekness of the lamb, slyness of the fox, strength of the ox, loyalty of the dog, memory of the elephant, stubbornness of the mule, and the sense of the horse. He must be swift as an athlete, as tactful as a diplomat, always showing kindness toward all living things. Try not to exhibit fear of animals and realizing that being bitten is part of the job. To be sympathetic with all persons and using psychology in bringing about a satisfactory solution. Have the ability to stand face to face with unfavorable comments and undue criticism and maintain a cheerful attitude, realizing that he is being courteous and yet knowing he will be firm enough to accomplish the purpose of the department. Be able to shoulder the jokes and the ridicule of the name of the job wherever he goes. He realizes his importance in public health work and its program. These qualities applied daily, in a conscientious manner are what separates the Pomona Valley Humane Officer from the dog catcher."

Watson Measure Opposed

Organization of the Californians Against The Tax Shift, a citizen's committee to fight the Watson property tax initiative on the November ballot, was announced today by Preston Hotchkis, general chairman.

Hotchkis announced that Baus and Ross Company, Los Angeles political campaign firm, have been engaged to direct the campaign against the Watson measure.

Hotchkis, insurance executive and lawyer, for many years has been a well - known California water leader. He was president of the Colorado River Association and is chairman of the Southland Water Committee.

Baus and Ross have managed campaigns for Richard M. Nixon, Barry Goldwater, former Governor Edmund G. Brown and Mayor Sam Yorty.

The Watson measure, an initative measure qualified for the November ballot under sponsorship of Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson would restrict the property tax to 1% of real value and impose rigid limitations on borrowing power of public agencies. It would wipe out about $2 billion of revenue for counties, cities, schools and other districts while making no provision for replacement of this revenue, Hotchkis said.

"The Watson measure is highly controversial, and there are many reasons why we think it dangerous to the future of the state.

"The overriding reason it would be a disaster, beyond any reasonable argument, is its threat to the water program of the state and the Metropolitan Water District.

"By imposing totally unrealistic limitations on the borrowing power of public agencies, the Watson measure could suspend completion of the half - finished California State Aqueduct, for which $2 billion of our tax money has been committed and largely spent.

"The voters by a three-to-one margin approved an $850 million bond issue in 1966 to complete a Metropolitan Water District system to distribute water from the new state system to five populous but dry Southern California counties." Hotchkis was chairman of the citizen's committee which campaigned for the MWD bond issue.

Model A Show At Knott's Farm October 19

A bellow of the horn and the purr of the engine will get the Model A's on their way through the streets of Ghost Town on the sixth annual "Model A Roundup" at Knott's Berry Farm, Saturday, October 19.

Highlighting the day, a parade at noon down the main street will give the owner and his family a chance to sport their auto in costumes fitting the era of the car.

These ageless conveyances of bygone days will be polished up and presented for judging in a variety of classifications including 12 different body styles manufactured in an interim between 1928 and 1931.

Awards will be presented in the Covered Wagon Camp at 1:00 p.m. and the cars will be on display in the parking area just north of the Cable Car Kitchen.

Over 200 antiqued autos are expected for the event sponsored by the Orange County Chapter of the Model A Ford Clubs of America. Registration for the event will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the reserved parking area.

Knott's is located in Buena Park (Beach Blvd) just two miles south of the Santa Ana Freeway.

Ski Show Slated October 10-13 At Great Western

Great Western Exhibit Center will be the scene October 10-13 of the annual International Ski and Winter Sports Show and Ski Swap co-sponsored by the Southern Council of the Far West Ski Association.

Expanding this official kickoff event of the ski season in Southern California from three to four full days, show producers Harry Leonard and Jerry Simon announced this week that the 1968 Ski Fantasy presentation on "The world's longest ski slope" will be the most turned-on display of its kind ever created.

Two thousand color slides will be flashed on a huge screen literally surrounding the Ski-O-Tron nylon slide as top skiers perform the latest ski techniques to way-out rhythms. The show was premiered to rave reviews in the East recently and promises to create a sensation locally as well.

Trucked from New York on a flatbed trailer, the Ski-O-Tron will also be the site of the Fiat Indoor Professional Slalom Championships pitting the world's top schussers against the clock. Top prize in the four-city tourney --Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago and New York-- will be a 1969 imported Italian car.

Other features include the giant Far West Ski Swap, where thousands of new, used and outgrown skis, boots and other items of clothing are made available to the skiing public at budget prices. This is a great way for the beginning skier to get started from scratch, and with a minimum of scratch at that.

Coming during "California Ski Week," the Ski and Winter Sports Show will also spotlight the United States Ski Team as they train for the 1970 World Ski Championships the following season. American Olympic star Jim Huega of Lake Tahoe heads up the team members who will appear during the event.

Ski fashions for men and women, a snowmobile pavilion, learn-to-ski demonstrations and Ski Film Festival are added attractions.

There will be a Brau Haus with dancing, wine and fondue fest and scores of displays and exhibits by major ski manufacturers, states, airlines, resort areas and allied ski industry members.

Show hours opening day, October 10, are 4 to 11:00 p.m. with 1:00 p.m. to midnight performances the remainder of the four-day event. Special admission tickets are available through the 80 member clubs of the FWSA and dozens of ski shops throughout Southern California.

HEALTH HINTS

HAPPINESS AND HAY FEVER

Happiness is a warm puppy, say the Peanuts folks. But there is not much joy involved if you happen to be allergic to animal dander. If, in other words you have "hay" fever.

The flaky skin from animals triggers an allergic reaction in some people. Ragweed, dust and mold spores can also cause severe sneezing symptoms. Swollen nasal passages and teary eyes can sure spoil the fun of summer-the season when lots of plant pollen is swirling around in the air.

The happy thing is that there is something to be done for respiratory allergies. Sometimes antihistamine drugs, prescribed by a physician, may offer relief. The drugs, though, don't affect the underlying sensitivity. Avoiding the substance that triggers the allergic reaction is, of course, the best way to control hay fever.

There is another way. Identifying the offending allergen. This may involve a long series of scratch tests with suspected substances. If the right one is discovered, there is some hope.

Injections containing a minute amount of the allergen can be administered. Tiny doses can be increased to larger ones. And the body may gradually develop a tolerance. If the injections are begun before the hay fever season and continued for about three months, the allergic reaction may be prevented. The injections, though, may have to be repeated every year. If continued for several years, complete desensitization to the offending substance may result. But not always.

For the hay fever sufferer, quick cures and quack products can be disastrous. The only sure way to treat his allergy is with a doctor's advice.

Olympics Used To Measure Span Of Years

The Olympic Games were so important to the ancient Greeks that they were used to measure time.

In the 300's B.C. it became customary to mark time in "Olympiads," the periods of four years between celebrations of the Olympic Games. All events were dated from 776 B.C., the date of the first recorded Olympic race. The custom died out about A.D. 440, after the 304th Olympiad.

The ancient Olympic festivals were originated by the people of Elis, a Greek city-state on the plains of Olympia. Originally they were foot races in honor of Zeus, king of the Greek gods.

Gradually, all the Greek city-states joined in the Olympics. Other contests, such as jumping, discus - throwing, and chariot - racing, were added.

As the city-states declined, athletes from other lands began to participate in the games. Gradually, the games' true purpose of glorifying the individual became lost. The games became so corrupt that Emperor Theodosius abolished them in A.D. 394.

Centuries passed. Earthquakes and floods shattered the temples, stadium, and hippodrome. Finally, Olympia lay beneath 20 feet of gravel and soil.

In 1878, German excavators found the ruins of the ancient stadium. Interest in the Olympic games was revived. Eight nations participated in the first modern Olympics in 1896. The 19th modern Olympiad begins in Mexico City on Oct. 12.

Real Estate Facts

By Milton Stone

There has been much said about "leverage" in making real estate investment. Leverage means that by using a small amount of money, the investor can accomplish big things. It is another way of saying, "Use other people's money to build an estate."

Those other people are quite anxious to let you use their money at a price, with security.

A common example of leverage in real estate could be that you buy a duplex for $20,000 and pay $3,000 down, the balance of $17,000 being borrowed from other people at an interest rate of 6%.

You collect $100 a month on the two apartments, a total of $2,400 a year, paying $1,020 interest on the $17,000. You have a net interest earning of $1,380, giving you a return on your $3,000 investment, before taxes, of 46%.

Payments to amortize the loan, with interest, over 20 years would be $121.72. You can make the payments out of rental earnings and still have money left after taxes and upkeep to do with as you want. You are letting other people's money work for you. You are using leverage.

Here is an example of leverage cited in a book, "Creative Real Estate Investment," published by the California Real Estate Association:

"Several years ago, . a mail carrier, .bought house after house for never more than 10% down. He did the needed clean up work. He rented them for enough to pay taxes, maintenance and pay - ments. In approximately 10 years he owned 15 clear houses. Then he resigned from the post office and became a full-time investor and real estate rental operator."

Quite a record!

There are considerably more complicated methods of using lever - age. It can be through long term lease, sale and lease - back, options on vacant land, and many other situations.

Leverage is especially helpful in building an estate when there is increasing demand for real estate to serve an expanding population, true in most of California. The increasing demand raises the value of the real estate, and owner's equity.

If you invested $3,000 in a $20,000 property which doubled in value in 20 years, at which time you had it paid off from rental income, your $3,000 is now worth $40,- 000. Every dollar is now worth more than $13.

Your Realtor or other real estate broker is versed in using leverage for investment purposes and can guide you on which leverage route might be best in your situation. He can probably help you find property that will help share in California's growth and build an estate doing it.

Leverage is only one of many ways that real estate can be used to accomplish this purpose. Investment can take other forms as well. Leverage does offer excitment and some risk. Most worthwhile accomplishments use the same two ingredients.

Building Down Real Estate Up In SB County

Building and construction volume in Riverside and San Bernardino counties during July dropped to $26.2 million, the lowest total reported this year, and 5.6 percent off the July, 1967, level of $27.7 million, it was reported by Security Pacific National Bank in the August issue of the bank's Survey of Building and Real Estate Activity, Residential construction was nearly equally divided between the two counties. Of the $8.7 million in permits issued for residential construction, 71.7 percent was attributable to 364 new single family dwelling unit authorizations, 10.3 percent was accounted for by 122 multiple units, and the remaining 18.0 percent was accounted for by alterations and additions to existing family dwelling units. Nonresidential construction dropped 15.0 percent below the July, 1967 level. Volume was down in both the commercial and industrial building sectors. Engineering contracts were up 30.2 percent from July, 1967 with more than 73 percent of the activity taking place in San Bernardino County.

San Bernardino County experienced a slight decline from year-ago levels in total building and construction volume. The largest decrease was in the residential construction sector. Residential volume, at $4.5 million was the lowest recorded this year, as was the total number of dwelling units and units in multiple. Engineering construction increased 73.5 percent over July, 1967. Approximately 38 percent of the engineering total, some $1.6 million, was accounted for by a storm drain project in San Bernardino.

Real estate activity in the combined two-county area moved generally upward during July. Deed recordings placed 3.4 percent ahead of July, 1967, but were 3.7 percent off last month's level of activity. Board of Realtors' sales were up in the cities of Riverside and San Bernardino over last month and July, 1967. Subdivision activity was somewhat off the pace however.

Watson Measure Creates 'Stir' Coombs Admits

Senator William E. Coombs (R-Rialto) in a weekly report to his district, commented on the controversial Watson Amendment. "Whether it wins or loses next November 5th," the Senator said, "the Watson Amendment (Proposition 9 on the ballot) has already had a profound effect on taxation in California. Suddenly, after several years, property tax relief has stopped being a political football and become a political reality."

"Nowadays, to take the pressure off the overburdened property taxpayer, thoughtful tax economists are looking to a sophisticated form of transactions tax known as the 'gross margin' tax. This tax may do in 1968 what the sales tax did in 1933."

The Senator stated that such well known tax authorities as George Reilly, member of the Board of Equalization, has proposed a transactions tax as a means of reducing property taxes without bankrupting the tax-supported governmental services. "But," Senator Coombs stated, "a simple transactions tax tends to pyramid on products which pass through several hands before reaching the consumer."

"By taxing only the 'gross margin' or the 'value added' this pyramiding is avoided and a highly inequitable tax is made equitable and practical. A tax of this sort," the Senator continued, "has been in effect in Europe for many years and is reported to be equitable and a good revenue producer without being excessively burdensome."

YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN AT WORK

John V. Briggs 35th District

Sacramento ... Cable Commuter Airlines received strong moral support in their hope to continue intrastate service to Orange County and Ventura County areas as the result of the passage of Assembly Resolution 528.

Spearheaded by Assemblyman John P. Quimby (Democrat, San Bernardino), and encouraged by Assemblyman William Campbell (Republican, Hacienda Heights), Assemblyman Robert E. Badham (Republican, Newport Beach), and Assemblyman Ken MacDonald (Democrat, Ventura), the Assembly passed a resolution requesting the Public Utilities Commission to take immediate action to resolve jurisdictional differences regarding authority to certificate routes of third level airlines which are operating in interstate commerce.

It further resolved that the PUC be requested to rescind any existing Cease and Desist Orders which will be detrimental to the interests of any third level airlines operating in the State of California in interstate commerce.

Removal of the Cease and Desist Order could apply only to Cable Commuter Airlines inasmuch as it is the only interstate third level airline against which a Cease and Desist Order has been issued applicable to intrastate passengers.

Chairman of the Board of Cable Commuter Airlines, William E. Myers, said, "There can be no doubt that the Assembly, through the passage of this resolution, has acted in the best interests of all the people in the State of California. It is hoped that the PUC will accept favorably this recommendation and will allow Cable Commuter Airlines to continue its intrastate service in both Orange and Ventura Counties."

Myers continued, "It is always gratifying to see legislative action which furthers those principles of free enterprise and competition fairly and honestly, with service to the public as the final criterion."

Cable Commuter Airlines flies the DeHavilland DHC-6 Twin Otter 20-passenger prop jet aircraft, and operates from Ontario, Orange County, Ventura County, Lake Havasu (Arizona), Palmdale-Lancaster, Inyokern, and Los Angeles International Airport.

Green Blow Flies Pesty Critters This Time Of Year

"The Green Blow Fly" unfortunately isn't the name of a folk tune, but a pest usually abundant in California urban areas during the summer and early fall. The Health Department can expect many complaints during this period because of these pests.

Studies done in California have shown that many green blow flies migrate from garbage cans in areas where there is once-a-week collection. The flies lay their eggs in garbage and after a short feeding period by the larvae, they crawl out of the garbage cans to pupate in the nearby soil, soon emerging as adult green blow flies. These studies clearly suggest that twice weekly collection of garbage would greatly reduce the numbers of green blow flies.

However, attempts by health departments to control flies through public education on proper garbage storage and disposal practices have proven to be a real challenge. Recommended changes to twice-a-week garbage collection have met with resistance for economic, political and other reasons.

Santa Clara County, trying to determine the best means of controlling these pests, ran a study in residential areas of Saratoga, California. They found that the best systems were: twice a week collection of garbage, or once a week collection from metal cans with fitted lids with a vapons strip fastened to the lid, Shell Chemical Company's trade name for 2, 2-dichlorovinyl dimethyl phosphate (dichlorvos), or a system of suspended paper bags enclosed in rectangular metal containers that do not permit the larvae access to the soil.

The Green Blow Fly will continue to be an unwelcome guest until the public accepts their responsibility in denying him a place to be born and grow. Anyone who would like more information may call the San Bernardino County Health office in your area, Sanitation Division.

New Cookies Join Line

Two new cookies from Pepperidge Farm — Lemon and Chocolate Laced Pirouettes — are taking the stage in grocery stores across the country. They are sharing the spotlight with vanilla flavored Pirouettes, which first made their entrance a year ago.

Widely acclaimed for their unusual shape, these cookies take their name, pronounced "Peer-oo-ette," from the whirling dance of a ballerina. They are twirled while still warm into their hollow reed-like shape.

You can scarcely count the crispy, paper-thin layers that make up this deliciously delicate cookie. The new Lemon Pirouette has the essence of tree-ripened fruit, while the Chocolate Laced morsel virtually melts in your mouth.

New League Spurs Panther Title Hopes

ALTA LOMA--Recalling that Chaffey College failed to win a football game last year, perhaps it's something of a shock to learn the Panthers are considering themselves as "possible title contenders" in 1968.

But that's exactly the way Bill Gable, the Panthers' veteran skipper, looks at things as he gets set to embark upon his 10th campaign as head man at Chaffey.

Chaffey College

Location — 5885 Haven. Ave., Alta Loma.
Enrollment — 3,000.
Nickname — Panthers.
Colors—Red and white.
Home games — Panther Bowl (4-
Athletic director — Willie Richardson.
Head coach — Bill Gable.
Assistants—Willie Richardson, George
Co-captains, Howard Lowder, Bob Secor
Conference — Southeastern.

There are a number of reasons for Gable's renewed confidence, not the least of which is the fact he won't be battling such Eastern Conference giants as Fullerton Junior College and Orange Coast any more.

NEW LOOP

This year Chaffey hooks in with the Southeastern Conference, a new alignment strictly for football. Joining with the Panthers from what was formerly the Eastern Conference are Cypress, Riverside and San Bernardino. Citrus, an independent last year, and San Diego entries Palomar, Southwestern and Grossmont round out the eight-team circuit.

"We're competing much more with schools our size now," Gable points out, "It'll still be tough, that's for sure. But it's much more equal than playing someone like Fullerton all the time."

Aside from the new alignment, Gable and Panther fans have other reasons for optimism. And most of them center on Chaffey's crack quarterback Bert Karrer.

Last year Karrer was the Eastern Conference's total offense leader as well as No. 1 passer.

"We'll exploit Bert's running much more this year," Gable discloses. "He's a fine runner besides being an excellent passer."

The stats last year support Gable's claim. Karrer actually gained more than 300 yards on the ground although his losses when he was trapped left him just a shade over 100 net yards rushing.

The major weakness last year when Gable suffered through his first winless campaign was not offense, but rather defense.

Chaffey simply couldn't stop anyone. The Panthers gave up something like 35 points a game.

The prime void was the defensive secondary and Gable thinks he may have plugged a few holes. At least he's got some fine incoming freshmen along with several holdovers and he's giving just about everyone a shot at a defensive backfield spot.

Dave Huey and Ken Pompa are back as is Jim Bussey who returned from the service. Alta Loma's Dean Bentley, who played frosh football at Redlands, and Dennis Watford, at BYU last year are also expected to beef up the backs.

Panther Schedule

Ontario International Passengers Increase

ONTARIO -- News stories about records being broken at Ontario International Airport are not as surprising as they were a year ago, but record marks continue to fall at the local facility.

The latest statistic to be surpassed is the number of takeoffs and landings handled monthly by the FAA control tower at Ontario International Airport.

"During July 1968, our Air Traffic Controllers handled 17,225 operations," said Louis D. Mitchell, Chief, Combined Station and Tower, FAA. "The previous record was attained in March 1968 with 15,563 takeoffs and landings," he said.

During July 1967, the number of operations logged by the local control tower was 11,506.

Surprisingly enough, increased air carrier operations at OIA are not the reason for the surge in total operations. Mitchell attributes the new record to an increase in general aviation (private aircraft) activity.

Air carrier traffic usually builds up so gradually that it is not noticed," Mitchell said. "Of course, Cable Commuter Airlines and Pacific Southwest Airlines have added to the to the total operations," he added.

Cable Commuter initiated service from Ontario in October 1967. PSA initiated service from Ontario in June 1968. Western Airlines has been serving Ontario since 1949. Air West (formerly Bonanza Airlines) has been serving Ontario since 1955.

Alternate operations, when Los Angeles International Airport is closed by coastal fog and air carriers are diverted to Ontario, are included in the monthly summary of operations. "There were no major diversions from Los Angeles to Ontario during the month of July this year," Mitchell said. "The new record stands on normal operations."

Records are made to be broken and the FAA Station and Tower Chief doesn't have much hope of a long stay for the operations record. "I don't think this new record will stand for long," he said, "because of gradual increases in air carrier operations and the growing popularity of general aviation and executive (business) flying."

Boy Scout Jamboree Applications Available

The Old Baldy Council of the Boy Scouts of America announced that more than forty local area boy scouts have already submitted applications to attend the 7th National Boy Scout Jamboree which will be held at Farragut State Park, Idaho, next July.

Council Jamboree Committee chairman James Bull announced that the deadline for submission of Jamboree applications had been extended from October 1 until October 15, and he urged all interested Old Baldy Council area scouts to submit applications to the Council service center before the Oct. 15 deadline.

The Boy Scouts of America has allocated attendance of 57 Old baldy Council scouts at next year's Jamboree.

Council Jamboree selection subcommittee chairman Mark Alexander of Upland, announced that interviews of Jamboree applicants will begin in late October.

The Old Baldy Council Jamboree trip will include a two week tour of the western United States and Canada in addition to participation in the week-long Jamboree itself.

The Scouts will travel by air conditioned bus and will visit Las Vegas, Hoover Dam, Salt Lake City, the Bingham Copper Mines, Yellowstone Park, and Jackson Hole. They'll see Old Faithful, the Calgary Stampede, Banff, and the Canadian ice fields.

Avoid Stray Paint

Before using a handy spray gun for your painting, mask objects you want to shield against stray paint particles. Wrapping paper or newspapers, held with masking or decorator's tape are the easiest materials to use. When painting window frames, mask panes.

This race was sanctioned by the SPAAU under the direction of Stanley Stafford. In July each year the Mt. Baldy C of C also sponsor the 4-mile "Run to the Notch", which goes from the bottom of the Lift along a dirt road to the Notch Restaurant, 7,800' elevation.

George Husaruh of Southern California Striders this years winner, in the time of 68:21 did not beat the course record set by the local High School teacher Ray Hughes of Upland which is 67:00 set in Sept. of 1967.

Sharp Exchange Over Quimby Stand On Cleaver Reaction

"My opponent, John Quimby, has once again opened his mouth before putting his brain in gear", stated Jim Christensen, G.O.P. candidate in the 72nd A.D. Christensen's comment is in reference to a charge by Quimby that he 'flat out lied' about Quimby's votes during the Eldridge Cleaver con - troversy.

Christensen, speaking from his Upland head - quarters, continued by stating, "Quimby's per - sonal attack on my integ- rity is just another in a series of similar attacks on everyone who happens to disagree with him. He has used his broad-brush technique on the entire County Board of Supervisors, the Directors of the Orange Show, his own county Democrat leaders, a respected member of the Public Utilities Commission, and has called the entire California State Senate 'a bunch of senile old men'. I apparently have made his select list."

Christensen continued, "In my press release dated Wednesday, September 18th, I was referring to Quimby's actions in the Assembly on that day only. When the vote came up to refer the Cleaver Resolution to the Rules Committee, Quimby was absent and did not cast a vote. This action to refer the resolution to the graveyard of the Rules Committee was not opposed by Quimby. He simply did not show up to vote. This is the only vote I referred to in my September 18th release. It was impossible for me to comment on Quimby's vote on September 19th and he knows it. His accusation that I lied is false and he knows that too."

"Now let's discuss the final vote on the Cleaver Resolution which Quimby proudly says he voted 'aye' on. This is true, but I must say it was done in typical Quimby style. When this vote was taken Quimby was again absent. Then late in the day after the votes had already been counted and the resolution had passed by a near 2 to 1 vote, Quimby returned to the Assembly chambers and asked the Clerk to record his vote 'aye'. He apparently waited in the quiet of his office to see how the vote would go and then jumped on the winning side in typical Quimby style", Christensen continued.

Christensen concluded by stating, "John Quimby's temper tantrum is not becoming to at State Assemblyman. He has a right to disagree with me on any issue or his own voting record. I certainly hope that he calms down as the campaign progresses. In any event, I intend to continue exposing his voting record and his public statements no matter how incoherant his reactions become.

'Of Mice And Men' Garrick Presentation On Weekends

This week marks the opening of the 1968-69 season of Garrick Players when they present John Steinbeck's American tragedy, "Of Mice and Men, in The Castle, C and Lemon, Ontario, on September 27, 28, October 4, 5, 11 and 12. Curtain time is 8:15.

John Steinbeck's story of two men, one a huge, gentle, slow-thinking man, Lennie, and his pal, George, who is father and brother to him, has been popular with audiences since its debut on Broadway with Broderick Crawford.

John Michik, Ontario, is directing, bringing to this cast the sensitivity and skill in emotional intensity that he exhibited in the sensitive production of "Come Back, Little Sheba," and the powerful "Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

Playing the hapless giant is Andre Touchard, Ontario. This is his first appearance with Garrick Players, bringing experience from his previous work at Universal and Paramount Studios in Hollywood. George, who cares for him, is played by Don Batten. Batten, in his first year with Garrick Players, appeared as Albert in "Dear Ruth," Danny in "Laura," and the controversial professor in "The Velvet Glove."

Sandi McKenzie, Ontario, plays Curley's wife. Her Sister Monica in "Velvet Glove" was one of the highlights of last season.

Filling out the cast are Bob Allan as Candy. Allan has appeared in "Light Up The Sky" and "Goodby, My Fancy.". For his role, he is taking obedience training with a giant German Shepard dog.

Clark Marshall, Upland, who played the bishop in "Velvet Glove," and the lead in "Mr. Barry's Etchings," is cast as Slim.

Mal Gable, who was the sinister Waldo in "Laura," plays Curley. Ken Welch, Pomona, whose previous experience has been with Valley Community Theater, is cast as Crooks. Dick Olchawa as Carlson, Jim Rae as Whit, and Michik as Boss, complete the cast.

Because Garrick Players work without a curtain, this many-set play is being designed with all the elements present and each area will be spotlighted for the scenes being player there. Designing the set has been the job of Pat and Dick Olchawa, Ontario, and they have also supervised the construction.

Ray Aguiree, Chino, will be stage manager. Sandi McKenzie is producing the show, and she is being assisted by Glenda Batten, circulation, Joan Brown, Ontario, program; Sari Delapp, Claremont, Tickets, and Pat Breyman, Front of House.

For ticket information and reservations, call Sandi McKenzie, at 983-3026. Group rates are available.

Chaffey Lists New Artist Attractions

ALTA LOMA -- Chaffey College and the Associated Student Body reported the booking of two guest artist programs for fall and spring.

The comedy revue, which entails a $1 admission charge, will be presented by actors William Houck, Fred Scott and Patricia Saville. The revue goes by the title, "Where It's At!"

Six performers make up the troupe for the show, Los Flamencos de la Bodega, an expression of the dance and music form of Spain's Andalusian gypsies. There will be no admission charge for this program.

The Los Flamencos troupe headquarters at the Old Spaghetti Factory in San Francisco.

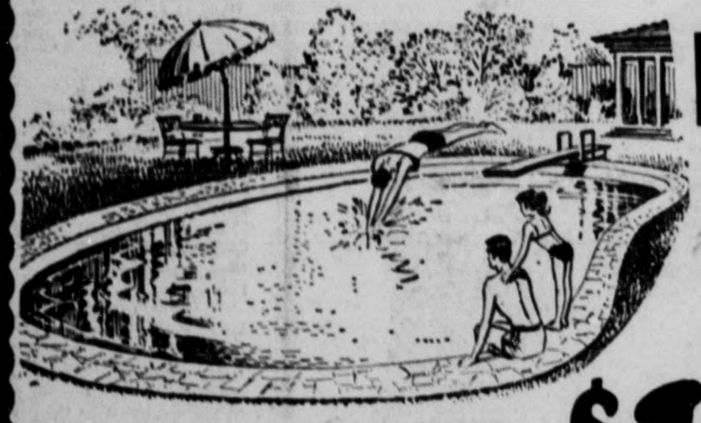

Both programs will be open to the public.

15 New Science Teachers At CP

Fifteen faculty members have been appointed to the teaching staff of the California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona School of Science by Dr. Robert C. Kramer, college president. New science faculty members are:

Biology: Ronald S. Daniel, Dr. Edward K. Mercer; mathematics: Allan Coleman, Arthur G. Duncan, Jr., Robert V. Frampton, Dr. Emil R. Herzog, Dr. Gail S. Konkle, Dr. Alvin C. Sugar; physical sciences: Keith H. Brown, Robert D. Eagleton, Dr. Shiu K. Ho, Dr. Ruth J. McKown, Dr. Barton Palatnick, Dr. J. Ernest Simpson, Dr. Frank Whitmore.

According to Dr. Vincent E. Parker, science dean, the Cal Poly, Pomona, School of Science offers majors leading to the bachelor of science degree in biology, botany, chemistry, mathematics, microbiology, physical science, physics and zoology. Within the biological sciences major, students may concentrate their studies in mycology-plant pathology, physiology, public health microbiology and systemic entomology.

In 1969, said Parker, the school of science will offer a bachelor of science degree in medical technology and a master of science in biological sciences.

Profane Words Eliminated From Texts

California pupils are due for a "second choice" new reading program when classes start in 1969.

This was the information received by the State Board of Education at its recent (Sept. 12-13) meeting in Los Angeles.

Ray H. Johnson, associate state superintendent, told the board that its "first choice" of a $15.3 million new "complete phonics" reading program for grades one through eight has been rejected by the State Legislature.

The Legislature, Johnson reported, has agreed to the board's $11.6 million "second choice" package.

However, he said, included will be $500,281 for the state's first English as a Second Language (ESL) books to help children from foreign language - speaking homes. Also included is $375,942 for a controversial "phonics" series for fast learners in grades 1-3. These books, published by J.B. Lippincott Company, are favored by State Superintendent Max Rafferty.

Although they made no comment on Johnson's information, board members did act on another textbook issue.

This was approval of excising such words as "damn," "Hell," "my God" from the seventh and eighth grade literature books. Both are published by Scott, Foresman.

The board's action was initiated by one of its members, George Brown, a Bakersfield attorney, who was not at the meeting. Brown previously had submitted a six-page list of "objectionable" passages, words and stories in the two books. Six other books he also criticized are not included in the final "second choice" textbook adoption.

Before taking action, board members were informed that the State Curriculum Commission had, in part, agreed with Brown's criticism. The commission agreed to removing the objectionable words, but not to eliminating any stories which Brown also found objectionable. Among his objections were that the stories either lampoon American history, glorify violence, or involve early "going steady."

The commission reported it does not agree with removal of the stories "because they have purpose and value."

The commission also reported that the publisher had agreed, and had received permission from the authors, to revise the objectionable language except for one story.

This story, "The Jar" by Luigi Pirandillo, is an international translation, the board was informed, and permission has not been granted to change the protested words. The board referred this problem back to the commission for some solution.

CHP Points Out Responsibilities

"Whether you are a driver or a walker, there are parts of the California Vehicle Code which apply to you," Captain V.F. Nicholson, commander of the San Bernardino Area of the California Highway Patrol, said this week.

He said that 910 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents in 1967 and 15,285 pedestrians were injured. Of those killed, 178 were nine years of age or younger, 91 were 10 to 19 years of age, 372 were from 20 to 64 years old, and 269 were over 65.

"The driver of a vehicle must yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian crossing the roadway within any marked crosswalk or within any unmarked crosswalk at in intersection; however, no pedestrian has a legal right to suddenly leave a curb or other place of safety and walk or tun into the path of a vehicle which is so close as to be an immediate hazard, in a cross-walk or anywhere else," the Captain said.

Pedestrians also have the right-of-way on sidewalks, and drivers who are crossing sidewalks on driveways must yield to approaching pedestrians.

"A pedestrian on a roadway outside a business or residential district must walk facing traffic, close to the left-hand edge of the road," Captain V.F. Nicholson said. He also must yield the right-of-way to vehicles when crossing or walking on the roadway at places other than intersections are controlled by traffic control devices or by police officers, pedestrians may not legally cross the roadway at any place except in a crosswalk.

Space Paintings For Display At Orange Grounds

"Eyewitness to Space," an exhibition of over 50 paintings and drawings depicting the space program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will open October 9 at the Fine Arts Gallery on the Orange Show Grounds.

Co-sponsored by the Visual Arts Project of the San Bernardino, Inyo, and Mono County Schools and the San Bernardino Art Association, the exhibition will be open to the public daily free of charge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and weekends from 1 to 5 p.m., through October 28.

Some of the nation's most famous illustrators, such as Doug Kingman, Jamie Wyeth, and Peter Hurd, represent many views of the space program. The excitement of blastoff, the silent vigil of the rockets at night, the towering gantries, the tense, waiting ground crews, the tired astronauts at rest, and recovery of the space capsule are among the many subjects pictured in a wide variety of styles. Meticulous, spidery drawings by Mitchell Jamieson contrast with the free watercolor impressions of Paul Sample and the rich brushwork of Lamar Dodd.

The exhibition was originally shown at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C. after being commissioned by NASA to show the many imaginative ways artists have found to express and describe man's attempts to journey into space. It is now touring the country under the auspices of the Smithsonian Institution.

The San Bernardino Art Association will be the hosts of an opening night reception for "Eyewitness to Space" on October 9. Entrance to the Fine Arts Gallery is through Gate 1 of the Orange Show. School and community groups wishing guided tours may arrange to visit by phoning TU. 5-7508, the Project's offices. Preparatory materials including a filmstrip are available upon request to schools in the area
